D. J. HOSTETTER'S
STOMACH BITTERS

Dyspepsia Indigestion, Nausea, Constipation Flatulency, Loss of Appetite or any Bilious Complaints arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels producing Cramps Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c. &c.

All of these ills yield like magic toits vilifying influence upon the system, and for a person in advanced years, or recovering from sickness of any kind, nothing can be more conducive to their convalescence than the use of these Bitters as per directions on the bottles,

Scarcely four years have elapsed since the first introduction of "Dr. J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters" to the public, and such has been the success of this article after its tested efficacy by a discriminating public, that during the last year nearly half a million bottles were sold, with a continuous demand in excess of the supply with all the facilities the proprietors have been able to command in its preparation.

Are you dyspeptic? Then take these Stomach Bitters.

Are you bilious? Try one bottle of these Bitters, and be relieved at once.

Are you annoyed by indigestion or constipation? Remove the cause by the free use of these Bitters.

Have you fever and ague? How many thousands in the West and South have been cured of this constitution-destroying disease by the free use of these Bitters!

All should try this great Antidote. We venture to affirm that, when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are used, a case of Fever and Ague cannot occur: therefore, no family consulting their own interest can afford to do without it.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Irrecommending to your use Dr J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, it is but just to state that as a stimulant to the system, in imparting strength and vigor, preparatory to perilous stages, which are of times attended with much pain and trouble we know of no preparation more happily adapted to all afflictions consequent upon this cause, and for cramps in stomach, cholera morbus, and all ailments arising from over indulgence in fruits, vegetables, ice creams, &c., it is certain and always its antacyns and no family should be with out it.

One wineglassful taken three times each before meals, at half the quantity to the patients are in a weak condition, and increased in proportion to their strength, will be found a great tonic agent, which all will appreciate when personally satisfied of the facts, as they will be by giving the Bitters one trial

☞ CAUTION ☜

Carefulness should be our study, but more particularly when the health is at stake. Since these Bitters have, from their medical qualities, become so similar cases have been a great many connections called Stomach Bitters, and often represented to be the same in virtues as Dr. Hostetter's, palmed upon the public. Be careful of these villainous compounds! Our Bitters are put in square quart bottles, and covered with the patent metallic cap stamped "Hostetter's Stomach Bitters," and Dr J Hostetter blown in the glass. All others are imitation.

THE OCEAN CABLE.

BY ALFRED BURNET.

Join the Cable—join it true—
Sink it 'neath the waters blue,
Where Old Ocean's foaming tide,
Floweth onward far and wide.
Join the Cable,—join it true—
Making one world out of two!

Lay the Cable—let it rest
Underneath old ocean's breast,
Down beneath Atlantic's waves,
Down beneath its depths and caves,
Lay the Cable—let it rest,
O'achievements—last and best!

Let it rest beneath the waves,
With buried ships, and drowned men's graves,
But secrets of the deep ne'er tell
To make our breasts with horror swell—
Let living fingers touch the wires
And tell what in each land transpires!

Lay the Cable! It is done!
Tiding now from sire to son
Flash across the heaving main,
And sire and son unite again,
John Bull and Jonathan shake hands,
United now by union bands.

Noble work! Let deathless fame
Attend the head—the heart the name
Of each, who toiled this end to gain—
This lightning line across the main;
And by their country honored be,
The heroes who have chained the sea!

The Cable's laid! The work is done,
And joined the hands of sire and son,
May words of friendship ever be
Transmitted neath the sounding sea,
The task is o'er, the work's complete,
Behold in friendship nations greet!

"Pop Gun" Smith.

We must, as a preface, beg Mr. Smith's pardon for using the familiar nick name of "pop-gun," but, as he is better known by that cognomen than any other, and inasmuch as he don't care "diary red," for the name, but rather glories in it, as a mark of honor conferred upon him by his enemies—and therefore we use it.

Well—the apology and preface nearly spoil what we intended to say, and we are afraid that the preface should have been the perioration But we will proceed with what we intended to say.

On Tuesday evening last the Hall was crowded with an anxious audience, waiting to hear an address from Mr. Smith, of Fort Wayne While the crowd was collecting, Mr. Colerick, also of Fort Wayne, and formerly an Old-Line Whig, entertained the audience with one of those short but eloquent speeches, for which he is so justly celebrated. He made his theme the recently settled difficulties between this country and Great Britain—alluding to former differences between the two countries at the same time—and showed how our Democratic Administration had made the British Lion kneel at the foot of the American Eagle. His remarks were received with applause throughout

Then Mr. Smith came forward. He said Colerick had fired a Paxaian Gun into the ranks of the enemy—but he would try and see what a "Pop-Gun" could do. He litterally "pulled off his coat and rolled up his sleeves," and if the Black Republicans did not hear a few home truths, then we do not know the meaning of language. We regret that our limited space will not allow us to go into an extended review of his truly able speech. He spoke of the comparative benefits derived by the country from Democratic and Republican rule—has showed that all the great works of the Nation, and all the great Reforms had been accomplished under Democratic rule—that the Republicans (or by what other name they now go,) Party, had in every instance sought to build up the Aristocrat at the expense of the Poor man. He told about John U Pettit, having voted for a bill to increse the pay of the officers of the Army, who receive from $100 to $2000 per month, and never having said a word in behalf of the poor soldiers, who does the work, and runs all the risks for $8 a month. He spoke at some length of the Atlantic Telegraph Enterprise, which, thanks to an over-ruling Providence, is now successfully completed, and showed how a Democratic Administration had fostered and encouraged the gigantic enterprise, while the Republican members of Congress were so busy watching "bleeding Kansas," and sympathizing with the "poor down trodden African," that they failed to notice the matter until the booming of the cannon announced its success.

But we must "dry up." It is impossible for us to notice all the points he made in his truly argument. All we have to say, is—if you ever have the opportunity, go and hear him You will be sure to "get your money back." He is no office holder, nor office seeker; but one of us—a plain hard working Gun Smith, and his remarks come with sledge hammer force to the minds of our fellow laborers.—Huntington Dem.

From the Lecompton Kansas) Argus, Aug 5.

The Cause of the Rejection of the English Proposition.—In accordance with universal expectation, the election on Monday last resulted in the rejection of the ordinance presented by Congress for the acceptance or rejection of the people of Kansas Just what the vote may have been will not be known until the Board of Commissioners have performed their work, which will probably not be in several weeks.

The causes which have conspired to produce this result are mainly as follows:

1st. The officers elected under the Lecompton constitution were chiefly extremists, in whom the people had no confidence, and to whom they were unwilling to confide the destinies of a new State.

2d The Legislature which was to come into power had the ordinance been accepted was chosen when the notorious Lane was at the zenith of his power, and a majority of the members were understood to be pledged to his election to the U. S. Senate.

To these two considerations may be attributed in the main the defeat of this measure. Other consideration of course had their influence. Many of the people were of the opinion that we ought to remain a Territory until we were better able pecuniarily to assume the expenses of a State government. Others again desire the guardianship and protection of the federal government, believing property and life insecure should the government officers and troops be withdrawn. Pro-slavery men very generally voted against, because they preferred to remain a slave Territory rather than become a free State, while many Democrats voted against it for the sake of retaining Gov. Denver, and the other federal appointees in office, as their places would on the adoption of the ordinance have passed into the hands of the ultra republicans.

Two Children Picked up in Lake Erie.—The Windsor Herald gives the following particulars of the finding of two children floating in Lake Erie on Thursday last:

Mr Owen was crossing from Sandusky to Kingsville in a small schooner when, about eight miles from one of the islands, he fell in with a small boat containing two children, the eldest about eleven or twelve—a girl—the other much smaller. The boat was full of water drifting before the wind, and they up to their necks in water. From being so long in the water they had become almost speechless, and were with difficulty freed from their hold on the boat. From the eldest Mr Owen learned their names and to where they belonged, and kindly took them home. From the father he learned that they had been in the water from eight A M to five P M They had been seen in the boat in the morning, shortly after which they were missing. The father started in pursuit, but failing to find them returned to the island.

The Way the Opposition to the Democratic Party Reformed the State Offices in Indiana.

In 1854, a fusion party was formed in this State, composed of Know Nothings, Abolitionists and disaffected Democrats, in opposition to the Democratic party. They called it the "People's Party." The professed object of the fusion party was to bring about a reform in various offices of the country. They said the old political parties of the country had become corrupt and needed reforming. They intended to discard the old corrupt politicians of all parties and select none but honest men for office, without regard to former political associations. This all sounded very well By these professions, the organization of Know Nothing lodges and the excitement that was raised in regard to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, and the passage of the Kansas and Nebraska bill, the fusion party succeeded in electing Secretary, Auditor and Treasurer of State and a majority of the State Legislature

Well, how did they carry out their professions of reform, after they got into power? The history of the way they administered the offices will tell the story. H TALBOT was the "honest man" they elected State Auditor. He permitted the Gramercy Bank, at Lafayette, and the Shawnee Bank, at Covington, to withdraw the securities placed in his office, for the security of the note-holders of those Banks, and which it was his duty sacredly to keep, for the purposes for which the law required them to be deposited. By this transaction, which would result either of dishonesty or incompetency, the people who held the notes of these Banks lost many thousand dollars In addition to this, Talbot went out of office with $10,000, belonging to the State, in his hands, that he did not pay over and for which a judgment against him and his securities was recently obtained.

Dr NOFFSINGER, the honest Treasurer elected by the fusion party, loaned about $50,000 of the people's money to speculators, and protested drafts for the amount now lie in the Treasurer's office

A Dr COLLINS was elected Secretary of State by the Reform party. As the duties of that office are merely of that of a clerk, and none of the State's money comes into his possession, it would naturally be supposed that he went out of office with clean hands, and that he didn't steal anything. But not so. On the eve of leaving his office he deeded to himself a large quantity of the Swamp Lands of the State, for which he paid not a dollar. He has since been compelled by a legal action, to disgorge and the Deeds have been cancelled.

This was the way the fusion party practiced reform. What was the fusion party in this State in 1854 is now the Republican party, except such as were too honest to continue with such a party, and we are happy to say there were many such, who had been inveigled into its ranks through the agency of Know Nothingism and anti Nebraskaism.

The Republican party is now asking the people to turn out of the State offices Democrats, who have faithfully and honestly discharged their duties, and put their candidates in. They should remember the way they conducted the offices when they had them before giving that party their support.—Richmond Jeffersonian.

The Rescue of the Bells.—A gentleman of this city has permitted us to make the following extract from a letter written by a friend in Harrison county, giving a brief account of the rescue of the Bells, from the Brandenburg (Ky.) jail:

I suppose you have heard of the Rescue of Mr Bell and his son from the Brandenburg jail, who had been maliciously and forcible taken from their home, especially the former, on suspicion of decoying and running off negroes from Kentucky. They were rescued in open day, about 1 o'clock, by two men. Horace and John Bell sons of the imprisoned man, lately from California, expressly for that purpose. Horace Bell is a perfect meat axe—fearless and brave. He distinguished himself for his daring with Walker in the Nicarrgua expedition, and he has several witnesses to prove he was in a hot place in the was of several bullet holes in his outer man. They were armed to the teeth with twenty shooters, an axe, crowbar, and other defensive weapons. They landed their skiff opposite the jail—sallied forth—entered the jail, occupied by the jailor and family—demanded the key—threatened the life of the jailor and turnkey if they made any resistance—entered the first door by the key—forced the next with the crowbar and axe—took their father and brother and after they left the jail the woman gave the alarm—the citizens repaired to the jail and to the river under arms, and found the party were about one third of the way from the shore. The Cornerpickers threatened to fire on them. Horace replied, "fire away," presenting his twenty shooter at them which is good for 150 yards They fired from the shore when the skiff was midway in the river, and it was returned form the skiff, but no harm done. The Bells waved their hats before they landed on freedom's soil. The Cornerackers are exceedingly mortified that two Hoosiers did most daringly rescue those two prisoners from the county jail of old Meade.

Beginning to Appreciate their Condition.—Within the last few months there has been a tremendous reaction against the Republicans in all the free States, for reasons that have been frequently stated in our columns. They begin to perceive the ill fate which fortune has in store for them, and express it in whispers through the columns of their leading journals Hear the Boston correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing under date of August 7. He says:

"It does not seem quite so certain as it did a few months ago, that the Republicans are going to have a majority in the next House of Representatives. We begin to think that it does not look as if there was to be a 'clean sweep' in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, and the contest looks each day more and more doubtful in Illinois and Indiana. New England cannot be expected to do any better. Of course you cannot expect no gains, numerically, in Massachusetts, for the whole eleven members are now of the Republican household, but it is not to be disguised that we may lose two members, and even more. Things are looking badly in the two Boston districts"

He almost concedes the defeat of that political charlatan, Mr. 'Clifton House' Barlingame, the worthy ally and confederate of the extinct Blair, of St. Louis.

A Canal through the Rocky Mountains.—During the late debate in the British House of Commons on the subject of the renewal of the Hudson Bay Company's privileges Lord Bury affirmed that a communication might readily be established between Lake Superior and the Pacific Ocean, by means of a ship canal conneting the head waters of the Saskatchewan and Columbia rivers. Both rivers take their rise in the Rocky Mountains, the Columbia flowing west to the Pacific, and the Saskatchewan running east of Lake Winnipeg, a little to the nortwest of Lake Superior. With the exception of a single rapid, which might be avoided by a canal, his lordship stated that the navigation of the Saskatchewan offers no difficulty. With that one exception, a vessel of considerable size can be taken up to the foot of the Rocky Mountains, and at this point there is a gap in the mountains, which would interpose no great obstacle to a junction of the Columbia and Saskatchewan, whose sources are but a little distance apart. Thus a direct water communication would be established with the Pacific.

Nicaragua and the United States.—A correspondent of the New York Times, at Granada writes that the rumor that the United States Government was about to blockade the ports of Nicaragua had created quite a sensation there General Lamar, our Minister, had a protracted interview, on the 22d ult., with the Nicaraguan Cabinet, and informed them that his Government was about to take decisive measures in the pending questions.

Distinguished Characters at Bedford.

The Baltimore American was favored with a letter the other day, before the visiting party had left, alluding in modest terms to the President's suite at Bedford, as well as to the persons of the British Minister and wife:

Sir William Gore Ousley, with his lady and daughter, seem to enjoy themselves very much, and will probably remain for some time after the departure of the President. He is rather a gouty and unwieldly old gentleman, with an apparent disposition to keep still when he is comfortably located. He is very much liked, and is free and easy in his intercourse with all, having apparently as little of the reverse of aristocracy about him as the President himself. Mrs Ousley is an American lady, one of the Van Ness family, and was, I believe, born in Vermont. She has quite a majestic appearance, and is dressed in deep mourning.

Miss Ousley is apparently not over eighteen years of age, of great sprightliness, the best dancer and waltzer at the Springs, and rides on horseback with a grace and reckless speed that renders it difficult for the gallants here to keep pace with her. She dresses in black, and though not decidedly handsome, is by no means homely. She does not seem disposed to participate in the labors of the toilet, so common among American ladies at summer resorts, but looks rather to enjoyment and to please herself than to join in the effort to outshine others in dry goods and jewelry.

While alluding to the toilets of the ladies, I may remark that the three ladies who pay the least attention to the requirements of fashion are the President's niece, Miss Lane, the daughter of Senator Bright, and Miss Ousley. Miss Lane is of a very neat person and figure, but is always attired with great simplicity and good taste. She seems to discard all jewelry except ear-rings and breastpin, and is the last person you would take to be the leading lady of the President's household In her manners she is free and courteous to every one, without a particle of pride or hauteur

Miss Bright has a bright, good humored countenance, and an easy, graceful manner, equally free from hauteur, and as democratic in her intercourse with the visitors of her companion, Miss Lane. Her pleasing manners render her one of the leading belles of the season. They seem to have come here to enjoy themselves, and may be found strolling on the mountain in the morning, promenading or riding out in the afternoon and evening, and joining in the waltz or quadrille at night; and do not consider it sacrilegious to be seen twice in one day in the same dress.

Minister Wright—Baron Humboldt.—A foreign correspondent of the St Louis Republican visited Governor Wright, our Minister at Berlin, on the 4th of July, and there met Baron Von Humboldt, of which incident he says:

After repairing to the parlor he remained for some time longer in conversation, and, on leaving, every one advanced and pressed the noble traveler's hand, with many hearty wishes that his valuable life might long be spared to the world. The Rev Mr Clark very justly said in his remarks at dinner, that he "would rather be able to say he had seen Baron Humboldt, than to say he had seen every King, Queen or Emperor in the world," a sentiment in which I am sure every American present heartily concurred. Every one present felt under additional obligations to Governor Wright for the opportunity he afforded us of enjoying for so many hours the society of his distinguished guest. And here I cannot help saying, that every American who was present, and every one who has visited Berlin, I know will join me in saying, that the news of the confirmation of Governor Wright by the Senate was received with the liveliest satisfaction As Baron Humboldt himself has said, "he is universally respected" and the President and the Senate did wisely when they indignantly frowned upon the vile slanders that interested parties had given publicity to, concerning his penuriousness and cold water principles, and time will prove how deeply he was wronged by such irresponsible scribblers and meddlesome place hunters.

What Has the Opposition Ever Accomplished?—What has the opposition to the Democratic party ever accomplished in a national way? They enacted the Alien and Sedition Laws, but the Democratic party repealed them, and since then they have not been heard of. At the instance of Thomas Jefferson the Democratic party enacted the present naturalization law; the Democratic party divorced the Federal Government from a gigantic money corporation, and established the Independent Treasury system, a measure the opposition reviled, but whose excellence is universally acknowledged, and no one now has the temerity to advocate its repeal. It enacted the tariff under which the country has prospered. In 1812 it humbled British insolence. It acquired Louisiana, Florida, Texas and Mexico, and thus has laid the foundation for one of the mightiest and freest of governments that has ever existed upon the face of the earth. A Democratic State was the first to abolish slavery, and every free State, excepting one, that has been admitted into the Union, has been admitted under a Democratic President. In every State in the Union where the rights of the people have been enlarged and made more secure through their constitutions, it has been done by the Democratic party. The Fugitive Slave law may be said to belong to the opposition, as is bears the approving signature of Millard Fillmore. What other great measure can the opposition lay claim to? They had the honor, it is true, of expelling some of their own members from the floor of Congress two years ago, when they were in a majority there for shameless corruption—a thing the Democratic party was never constrained to do.

What else has the opposition done?—Franklin Democrat.

The Frazer River Gold Diggings Pronounced a Humbug.—A merchant of this city, who has been extensively engaged in shipping goods to California, went out three months ago to attend to his business affairs. On his arrival he found that all the mirons of Greenwood Valley where he had a brother residing, and many other places in the neighborhood of Sacremento, were clearing out for the New El Dorado, on Frazer River. He, therefore, concluded to proceed thither himself, and ascertain what chances there might be of making a good "spec," by sending his goods to that region instead of to California. He now writes home, to the effect that he "has seen the elephant, horns and all, and it is the greatest humbug ever got up." This information is obtained from a respectable firm in this city, who assure us that it may be relied upon as correct.—N. Y. Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16th.—The new Granadian Minister had an interview with Secretary Cass this morning at the State department, and communicated to him the Cass-Herren Treaty as ratified by the Congress of that country. There is only one alteration therein, and not three as heretofore, and that refers to the naval coal depot, but the treaty is accompanied by two propositions in the the nature of explanations.

Tremendous Snow Squall in July.—The wife of George Snow, of Arkansas, gave birth to three children July 26.

☞ A young lady in Orange, N. J., one evening last week received a visit from a lady acquaintance and a young gent, who was introduced as a stranger. The young lady at once put on her sweetest look and wore her prettiest smile, as it seems she was in the habit of doing, to captivate charming young gents—and this one, by the way, was a fine looking fellow. After sundry little flirtations, the lad managed to solicit her company for the evening, and she lisped an "I have no objections." Things went on nicely, until to the astonishment of the would be courted lass, she found her supposed beau to be an old acquaintance of like gender with herself, who had donned male toggery. Of course both laughed, but the laugh was rather forced on one side.

European News by the Atlantic Telegraph — In another column will be found news from London up to yesterday morning, brought by the submarine telegraph! What can be more wonderful than this great and glorious achievement of science, putting us in almost immediate contact with the old world, annihilating time and space, and bringing news from the most remote regions in less time than it took a few years ago to hear from a neighboring town. The receipt of this news by the cable is a gratifying and convincing proof that this stupendous work is an absolute success, and its practical working must convince the most sceptical that there is no humbug in it.

FIRE!—On Tuesday morning last, at about 7 o'clock, the front building of Messrs. Hill & Orbison, forwarders, situate on the basin, at the foot of Columbia Street, was discovered to be on fire. The fire had caught from a stove pipe in the second story, and in a short time the whole upper part of the building was in a blaze. Fortunately there were no goods stored there, and all those in the lower story were promptly removed and saved by the zeal and activity of our citizens, whose conduct on the occasion is deserving every praise. Mechanics Fire Co No 2, with their engine, and Alert No 1, with their hooks and ladders, were speedily on the ground, and by their energetic efforts, ably aided by the bystanders, checked the progress of the fire and prevented it communicating to the rear building, which is a frame, and was filled with goods and produce. The interior of the building was consumed, and the beautiful stone front thrown down, leaving nothing but the walls standing. Laborers were at work the next morning clearing away the ruins, and the warehouse will be immediately rebuilt; in the meantime the business is continued without interruption in the rear building. Messrs Hill & Orbison's loss amounts to $1,500 or $2,000. No insurance.

The firemen and citizens generally are entitled to the highest commendation for their prompt and efficient labors, by which the fire was confined to the building where it originated, and a large amount of valuable property saved.

A meeting will be held at the Court house on Monday evening next to consider the propriety of forming a Bucket Company, auxilary to the fire department. A company of this kind, properly organized and equipped, might be of essential service in case of fire.

The Prospect.—The State Journal publishes a table showing the vote in each Legislative district at the last gubernatorial election. If the same vote should be given for members of the Legislature at the ensuing election, the new Legislature will stand—Senate, Democrats 27, Republicans 23; House, Democrats 59, Republicans 41. Dem. majority on joint ballot 22.

☞ In another column will be found a card from SOL. D. BAYLESS, announcing himself an independent candidate for the Legislature. Sol is a clever fellow and is generally believed to be not lacking in shrewdness and common sense; we must however be permitted to say he does not show much of either in this movement, and is sadly fooled if he expects to be elected. Allen County is democratic, and will be represented in the next Legislature by Schuyler Wheeler and Nelson McLain, the nominees of our democratic convention.

Fort Wayne City Directory and Business Mirror.—Mr. H. T. Bennett, agent for C. S. Williams, publisher, Cincinnati, is now here soliciting subscribers and preparing matter for a Directory of our city, to be published and delivered to subscribers at as early a day as a work of this nature can be got ready. Subscription price $1 50.

The work will contain an alphabetical list of all our citizens, a directory of the streets, list of churches and hours of service, municipal and other public officers, benevolent and other societies and associations, &c., &c The plan of the work will at once recommend it to the favorable attention of our business men. Such a publication is needed here, and will add much to the character and reputation of our city; we therefore trust it may be liberally encouraged, and such a number of subscribers be obtained as will justify the publisher in putting the work to press.

Speedy Justice.—Martin Witz, was arrested in this place on Tuesday last, charged with stealing a steer in Adams Co., and was taken to Decatur, tried, convicted, and sentenced to states prison for 2 years, and a fine of $30.00.

Free School—The subscription for our free school is progressing slowly, but we have strong hopes that enough will be raised to keep open the schools until the next year's public funds are received. A few hundreds are yet necessary to ensure this desirable object, and we hope all friends of free schools, who have not already subscribed, will come forward at once, and liberally. If every parent would contribute one-half what it would cost to send their children to private schools, a sufficient amount would be raised to keep the school going. They ought to do this,—it would be good economy—and an act of justice as well to the school as to their children,

India Staats Zeitung—A new German paper under this title has been commenced in this city by GUSTAVUS J. NEUBERT. It is a large, neatly printed paper, thoroughly democratic in its politics, and we are told, is very ably edited. We cannot read it ourself, and therefore have to take the opinion of those who can We commend it to our German friends, and advise them to get a copy and judge for themselves

Columbia City News—We have received the first number of this paper, published at Columbia City, Whitley Co. by T L GRAVES It is a very fair-looking sheet, and the salutatory and editorials give evidence of superior talent on the part of the editor. It is democratic in politics, and is eminently entitled to a warm and earnest support from the democrats of Whitley Co.

GEORGE MELVILLE, An American Novel. W. R. C. Clark & Co, Publishers, Appleton's Buildings, New York.

This is a very exciting story, showing the enormities and villainies which are sometimes practised in New York, by persons moving in the higher circles; as well as the retribution which follows such wickedness, and the eventual triumph and happiness of the persecuted and virtuous. The plot is well arranged, and the characters admirably portrayed and sustained throughout.

For sale at C. L. HILL'S book store.

The Citizens of Fort Wayne.

Are respectfully requested to meet at the COURT HOUSE, on Monday evening next, Aug. 30th, to consider the propriety of forming a Bucket Company as an auxiliary to the Engine and Hook & Ladder Companies already existing. The importance of such a company must be apparent to every reflecting mind, and the value of the services of such a company, thoroughly and effectively organized, must be fully impressed upon every one who witnessed the fire upon Tuesday morning last.

☞ We find the editor of the Black Republican of this place is not the only man of his party who can tell a tough yarn about government expenditures, and swell an actual expenditure of sixty millions into an assumed one of one hundred millions. Judge Hackleman, candidate for Congress in the 4th district, has got a little ahead of Brother Bailey, and runs up the amount to $104,000,000! Our neighbor must look out for his laurels, or he will be eclipsed by some of the smaller lights of his party, and have to descend from the proud eminence he has assumed. Let him however look out that he does not get exposed as his rival did in the paragraph below:

A HARD LICK.—The poetical Judge, in speaking of the extravagance of Mr. Buchanan's Administration, at Smelser's Mill, said it was the most extravagant one that we have ever had expending $104 000,000 per year. He refered to Mr. Pierce's Administration as an economical one, expending but $54,000.000 per year. Judge Holman, in reply to the poetical Judge's statement, read an article from the Rushville Republican, of 1856, with Hackleman'r mark to it (†) which labored to show that Mr. Pierce was the most extravagant President we ever had. The article fairly proved that Mr. Pierce had expended $100,000.000 annually for governmental expenses. "This was something that Hackleman was not expecting, and if a bomb shell had exploded in his face he could not have looked worse."—Rushville Jacksonian.

LEAVENWORTH, August 22.

From the West.—Per U S Express to Boonville August 25th.—Utah mail with dates to July 31st one week later has arrived. The news is uninteresting.

The army continues occupied in preparations for winter All was quiet at Salt Lake City—Surgeon Walls, of the army, arrived with the mail.

The Board of Commissioners constituted by the English bill have issued a proclamation declaring the proposition rejected by 9,512 majority. The whole vote was 13,088 votes No fraudulent votes were received. A few precincts were rejected on account of the informalities.

A dispatch from Independence 21st, per U S Express Co. to Boonville, says that Santa Fe mail with dates to the 2d inst, had arrived. A private letter received in Santa Fe intimates that war with the Navajoe Indians is inevitable; they having determined not to surrender the murderer of Major Brooks' negro and even invited the troops to fight.

Public Sentiment in Kansas about Admission.—Gentlemen of the highest intelligence, who have travelled through Kansas, and conversed freely with its inhabitants, report that all is perfectly quiet, and that the farming interests are in an extremely thriving condition. There is almost universally expressed, by all parties, a decided opposition to admission into the Union as a State They allege that their population is too small, and that reverses in business have made them too poor to incur the expenses of a State government. —Washington Union.

Another Cable Scheme—It is said that parties are preparing to take the preliminary steps to obtain permission from the Russian Government to construct a line of telegraph from St Petersburg to Oregon, which, being on land all the way, except the thirty five miles of Behring's Straits, will be exempt from the caprices of Neptune, and capable of being laid through a country no colder or more unhabitable than latitude fifty degrees of the eastern shores of America. It is surposed that the present Emperor of Russia would not interpose any obstacles to the scheme, at least not to the necessary explorations being made. And, if it should be found to be feasible, there can be no doubt that the line, so constructed, and capable of the same ready repairs and supervision as any other land line, would be far preferable to a submerged line upward of two thousand miles in length.

There is not a Lady Living but at some periods of her life will find Dr Duponco's Golden Pills, (advertised in another column) just the thing she needs. The ingredients composing these Pills is no secret, every agent selling is presented with the Formula, and they will tell you they are perfectly harmless, yet wonderfully efficacious for the relief and cure of all those delicate diseases, from which, so many of you are daily suffering. One of the first Ladies of Lafayette, Ind, wrote to the agents, saying, "of so much value do I consider Dr Duponco's Golden Pills" in my case, of distressing and painful sickness (monthly) that I would cheerfully give Five Dollars a box for them if I could not get them for less.—See advertisement Headed "a Card to Ladies."

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK, August 20.

There is a very general desire on the part of the public to learn the degree of success which the electricians have met with in transmitting electrical currents through the Cable, since it was submerged; but, as yet, we have nothing beyond unofficial statements from Valentia, that it is possible to receive from Trinity Bay about 60 signals per minute. If this is true, it would seem to indicate the possibility of transmitting by the system of Prof. Whitehouse, about three words of average length per minute, or by the system of Prof. Hughes, assuming that each electrical impulse may be made to point a complete letter, about 10 or 12 words per minute. We understand that the Company propose to give Prof. Whitehouse ample time to test his system thoroughly; after which Prof Thompson will test his invention, which is quite different from that of Prof Whitehouse; and after him Prof Hughes, of N Y, will have an opportunity to test the capabilities of his most extraordinary invention, which is, we understand, about to be introduced on one of the lines between London and Liverpool.

The following despatch from Trinity Bay and Carbonier was received this morning by Cyrus W Field.

Please write me fully about the tariff and other working arrangement
Signed, SAWARD.

New Telegraphic Arrangements—The French Government has accorded to the Atlantic Telegraph Company exclusive right to land cables on the Island of Miguelow, between Newfoundland and Nova Scotia The company propose to run a cable from Placentia Bay to St. Pierre, thence to Sidney, which will bring the French, islands into telegraphic communication with France and save the keeping in repair of some 4 or five hundred miles of line in Newfoundland and Cape Breaton, through almost uninhabited regions.

The following message was received to day:

He said the facts proved that hostile passions, aided by a few unfortunate incidents, did not succeed in effecting the friendship of the two crowns, or the desire of both nations of peace. He entertained the sincere hope that if attempts were made to stir up the old resentments and passions of another epoch they would break to pieces upon common sense. Prince Albert responded that the Queen was happy of the opportunity of endeavoring to strengthen the bonds of friendship based on the mutual prosperity and blessing of Heaven, not to be denied. He concluded with a toast to the Emperor and Empress of France. Queen Victoria left Cherbourg on the 8th inst., under a triple salute. On the 7th the Napoleon dock was inaugurated, and the Ville de Nantes launched. It was rumored that Napoleon will visit Victoria privately at Osborn during the autumn. The Emperor had ordered a pyramid of granite to be erected at the head of the new dock, to commemorate the Queen's visit. He said the government would not wage war, except defence of the national honor and the great interest of Europe.

TURKEY—The late collision in Bornia, in Turkish Crotia, and Montenegro, had caused a sort of panic in the capital. The Musselmen and Christians were living in a state of mutual fear of each other The Sultan, to show his confidence, had gone with a fleet on an excursion to Smyrna. A plot, having for its object the massacre of the Christians, has been discovered in Smyrna. The government had made another seizure of arms and sent the guilty parties to Constantinople. It was reported on the 23th of July a band of Montenegrians (1,000 strong) assailed Kolaschin, killing nearly 1,000 of its inhabitants, who, confiding in the armistice, were unarmed. The Montenegrians burnt many houses and carried away women and children into captivity.

The negotiations with the Chinese Commissioners were proceeding at Tien Sin and an interview was to take place on the 7th of June.

Wisconsin Banks

A meeting of the Busines Men of Chicago, was held at Metropolitan Hall, on the evening of the 19th inst., to express their views in regard to the Wisconsin currency, which had been thrown out by the bankers of that city. Speeches were made strongly condemnatory of the course pursued by the bankers who issued the circular The following resolutions were adopted by the meeting.

Resolved, That we believe in a sound, convertible currency and that if any of the currency, or the bills of any of the banks now in circulation in this city be inconvertable; it is the duty of our bankers and business public generally to adopt such measures as will render them readily convertible into coin or New York exchange as easily as possible,

Resolved, That we will sustain our banks in every effort made in good faith to retire inconvertible money from circulation.

Resolved, That we believe Wisconsin currency to be well secured, and if any of the banks in that State, refuse to redeem we will nevertheless take their issue at par and place in the hands of some banker who will send it home for redemption.

Resolved, That we recommend the people not to sacrifice on this money, and we believe it to be perfectly well secured and ultimately good

Wisconsin Banks—The following list embraces the Wisconsin Banks which have not yet made arrangements to redeem They are, however, purchased by F. G. Adams, No. 44 Clark street, at 1 per cent. discount, and we should therefore advise their circulation from hand to hand in the payment of debts. Most of our merchants take them at par for goods:

Bank of Eau Claire, Eau Claire,
Chippewa Bank, Pepin,
Laborer's Bank, Ellisville,
Marathon County Bank. Eagle River,
Oakwood Bank, North Pepin,
St Croix Valley Bank. St Croix Falls,
Wisconsin Valley Bank, Millville,
Bank of Moneka, Gordon,
Lumberman's Bank, Centerelle,
Northern Wisconsin Bank. Aurora,
Geonto County Bank, La Porte,
Shawanaw Bank, Shawanaw,
State Security Bank, Gomeken,
State Security Bank, Eau Claire,
St. Croix River Bank Brinkerhoff,

They will doubtless make arrangements to redeem in a few days.—Chicago Press & Tribune, Aug. 23d.

The Falling Off in the Receipts from Customs.—The amount of receipts into the United States Treasury form the duties on foreign imports por the fiscal year ending the 30th of June 1858, was but 41,000 009 For the year ending the 30th day of June, 1857, they amounted to $68,000,000, being a falling of in one year of $27 000,000. This immense falling off has embarrassed the Government, and has obliged it to temporarily resort to loans and the issue to Treasury notes. The Congress of 1857, unfortunately, greatly reduced the tariff of 1846, upon the ground that it was supplying more revenue than was needed for the economical expenditures of the Government, just as the great financial storm of the summer of that year, which many wise and shrewd men discovered to be impending, burst upon the country with terrible force The effect of that storm was to severely check the importation of foreign goods for which we could not pay, and, had the old tariff been permitted to stand, it would hardly have afforded revenue enough for the support of the Government. But the reduced tariff coming into operation at such an unfortunate time, together with the diminished importations, brought the Government revenue down almost one half. Under the circumstances, and with a financial crisis evidently near at hand, the passage of the tariff of 1857, was a great blunder for which the country is principally indebted to the Republican House of Representatives, which originated the bill, and passed it at the end of the short session, when there was but little time left to the Senate and President to examine its dethile.—Cin. Enq.

☞ Governor Corwin seems to bent on mischief, or at least to annoy seriously the "ragged issue," branch of his supporters. In his speech accepting the nomination, he contradicts the aspersions of slavery encroached upon the North, which is constantly made in the Black Republican Journals He says:

If the North only exercised the confidence which belonged to power, and magnanimity which belonged to conquest, there would be no danger to the country. For, notwithstanding all that we had heard of the encroachments upon the North, freedom had encroached upon slavery. After that great barrier between freedom and slavery had been broken down, freedom had rushed in and taken possession of a portion of the Louisiana Purchase. So it would always be with freedom and slavery.

The Pacific Indian Difficulty—The advices from Oregon and from Washington Territory, represent our relations with the Indian tribes as indicative of a war of either submission on their part or extermination of them on ours Gen Harney in ordered from the Utah Campaign, it is now well understood, to go to the Pacific side and conduct the operations of the U. S. forces in the Indian country there. It is now the general belief, from reliable representations, that there is a strong combination among the hostile tribes to carry on the war, in order to prevent the passage of our troops through their country and the construction of the military road from Fort Walla Walla to Fort Benton. These combined forces present a most favorable opposition and it is the opinion of many that it will require two years to overcome it. On the other hand, the Nez Perces and the flat heads, two of the most powerful tribes in the country, and who occupy the western slope of the Rocky Mountains, still remain friendly The new gold diggings are on the eastern slope of the Cascade Mountains, and the hope is entertained that the troops which, under the energetic movements of Gen Clarke, and concentrating in that vicinity, in connection with what countenance and aid they may receive from the miners, may soon teach the hostile tribes the folly of their intentions. It will be seen that they will be placed between two fires—that of the friendly tribes on the east and that of the troops and miners on the west. The result seems inevitable that they must soon succomb or be exterminated.

A Change for the Better.—While witnessing the celebration of the completion of the Atlantic Telegraph in this city, the stringing together in close proximity of American, British, French, and German flags, and the expressions of gladness at the linking together of the American and European continents by the great invention of Morse, we could not but call to mind a favorite expression with some of our "American" friends a very few years ago. The substance of the sentiment which they then so much admired was the wish that an "ocean of fire instead of water rolled between the Eastern and Western continents," so that communication between the two might be forever cut off.

Nobler and kindlier feelings, we hope and believe, now prevail. The closer union of the nations of the world is hailed with joy and gladness by men of all creeds and all parties. May this generous sentiment be fostered and encouraged and continue to grow in the hearts of the people of every clime.—N. A. Ledger.

☞ By the report of the Commissioners of Emigration, it appears that the arrivals of Castle Garden, New York, to the 4th of August this year, are but 48,665. To the same period last year there were 113,359 arrivals. This is a falling off of 65,294.

Missouri Congressional Delegation.—The next delegation in Congress from Missouri will be comdosed wholly of national Democrats—a gain of tree.

The majorities in the several districts are as follows:

1st	J R Barret	426 majority.
2d	T L Anderson	4.500 "
3d	J B Clark	4.000 "
4th	J Craig	4,000 "

On the 23d instant, Sheriff Kingsbury arrested a man having in his possession a gray Horse Said horse is 8 or 10 years old, has a long switch tail; is blind in the right eye, and about 15 hands high; and has collar marks on both shoulders. A half Spanish Saddle with a black quilted seat was also recovered. The horn on the Saddle is filled with brass nails with large heads. The stirrups are of iron; girth, leather, and standing martingale with brass rings. The man having the Horse is about 5 feet 8 in. high, light complexion, thin face, and gave his name here as Chas. Kelly, but went by the name of Fitzpatrick in Defiance, where he made a short stop. The man is now in jail at Toledo. Western papers will do well to notice this matter, that the owner of the Horse may be found. That it is a stolen Horse, Sheriff K., and others have no doubt.—Toledo Blade, Aug 26th.

Yellow Fever at Charleston.—We learn that the yellow fever has become an epidemic in Charleston, South Carolina, and the people are fleeing in every direction. Quite a panic exists Sixty passengers from Charleston came through Tuesday and took the Baltimore steamer. We are informed that when the last steamer left Charleston for New York, so great was the rush of the citizens to the steamer, that it was impossible to accomodate the crowd. Many were left who were anxious to leave their afflicted city.

☞ The McKean County (Penn) Bank, we learn by the Potter County Journal, gave up the ghost a few days ago The cashier decamped with $71,000 of its funds, was arrested in New York, and committed in default of bail. The bills of the bank have been thrown out in New York. Mr Kingsbury, its president, says the Jhurnal, will secure the holders of its issue against loss, being able and willing to do so. This is one of the banks reported on lately by the Committee of Investigation.

Indianapolis Correspondence.

INDIANAPOLIS, August 2.

EDITOR ENQUIRER—The nominations for Congress in this district were made on Thursday and Friday last. Martin M Ray, of Shelbyville, is the Democratic, and Albert G Porter, of Indianapolis, the Republican candidate Porter was the candidate of the Indiana American, the Know Nothing Maine law paper here, and succeeded This is an important fact, and should be known to the people of the State. You will ask who is Porter; I will tell you. He was raised a Democrat. In 1853 he was the nominee of the Democratic party for Reporter to the Supreme Court against Mr Gordon, the editor of the Temperance Chart, the organ of the Maine law party in this State, who was the Republican candidate. Porter was elected, and made an independent fortune out of the office conferred upon him by the Democratic party. Gordon, the Maine lay man, went under. But in 1855 the Republicans had the majority in the Legislature, and passed the Maine law—the Democracy, from the outset, denounced the law as an act of tyranny, and proceeded, in a peaceful manner, to test its vrlidity in the courts of justice. When the Republicans prosecuted Beebe, of this city, for manufacturing lager beer, and selling a glass of it, and locked him up in jail, his case was brought before the Supreme Court. Judge David McDonald, of this city, (the present partner of Porter) and other lawyers defended the law as right and valid, while Judge Morrison and other lawyers resisted it as wrong and unconstitutional. The court did not decide the case upon the first argument. A second argument was had, in which Dick Thompson and this Mr Porter came forward with all their powers to aid in enforcing this Maine law, and keeping poor Beebe in his dungeon for selling a glass of lager beer, while, on the other hand, our present Democratic candidate for Attorney General, Joseph E McDonald, came to the rescue on the other side, and made a most powerful argument against the law. I was a listening spectator to that argument; I remember well the closing remarks of Porter, in which he threatened the judges with political annihilation if they did not decide the law valid, turning, as he said it, to Mr Yandes, of this city, and other prominent Republicans who were sitting around him while he spoke. It is, as I have been informed, to this threat that Judge Perkins alludes in his opinion in the case found in the 6th Indiana Reports, on page 521, when, in speaking of the constitutional restrictions, he says: "They are the main safe guards to the persons and property of the State; they will be maintained in so far as depends upon us, notwithstanding the intimation at the argument that whoever interposed an obstruction to the free course of this law was to be swept away by an overwhelming torrent. We shall be deterred by no such ill timed threats from what we believe to be the discharge of a solemn duty."

Well, in 1856, the Democrats refused to nominate Mr Porter to his office of reporter, but gave the nomination to Mr Tanner. Mr Porter openly joined the Republican party, and they have now nominated him for Congress that he may enter the field and make an effort to carry out the threat of sweeping away the judges who decided the Maine law unconstitutional. Can he do it; We shall see. He and Gordon, who were, as we have stated, pitted against each other in 1853, are now running together on the same Maine law ticket—Porter for Congress, and Gordon for the Legislature. A word further about Gordon. He was in the Legislature in 1857. Andy Humphries, of Green County, a Democrat, brought in a bill to repeal the Maine law, and Gordon voted against it; but still the bill passed the House where the Democrats had the minority, but was defeated by the Republican Senate. Gordon and Todd were the representatives from this county; Gordon as I have stated, voted against the repeal in the House, and Todd voted for it. Now, what do we see? Why, the Republican party, this summer, with a full knowledge of these votes, renominate Gordon and throw Todd overboard: thus as a party declaring themselves for the Maine law.

But my letter is becoming too long, I will bring it to a close. Everything is going right; the Democrats will carry the State by a large majority. You can bet on that. G.

Kentucky Election.—Returns have been received from ninety seven counties, in which Reville has a majority over McKee of 12,458. In the counties to hear from, which are Clinton, Letcher, McLean, Powell, Whitley, Rowan and Jackson, last year Garrard received 2,170, and Jones, 862. Revill's majority, it seems will be more than 13,000. They who have made bets upon the majority of Garrard, last fall being equalled at the late election, may now consider themselves, and are ready to call in the oro.

North Carolina—The Democratic majority in North Carolina is considerably larger than was at first supposed. In all but five counties the vote stands as follows for Governor:

John W. Ellis (Dem.)	53.511
D. K McRae (K. N)	38,087
Democratic majority	13,424

In the Legislature the Democratic majority will be about fifty on joint ballot

☞ The mission of the Democratic party is to administer the Government so as to compel obedience to the will of the people at home and to cause it to be respected abroad. The factions who dispute its supremacy, limits their patriotism and statesmanship to a corrupt and unprincipled combination, to control the patronage of the Government. It is the partnership of Bifield and Black George. They are simply preachers. —Cin. Enq

For the Fort Wayne Sentinel.

MR. EDITOR:

A few weeks since some friends suggested my name in one of our city papers as a candidate for the office of Representative of this county in the next Legislature

Since that time I have conversed with numerous persons on the subject, and it appears to be a general desire among those who I believe to be my friends, that I should run as a candidate for the office spoken of.

I have delayed my reply through the medium of the public prints, desiring that any person, who the people might prefer to myself, might have a free and welcome entry for a campaign; but as no one has been named, and the time is fast approaching when the voters of this country will be called upon to make a selection of two persons to serve them as Legislators, I deem it proper upon my part to say, that I am now a candidate for the office, and will, if elected serve my constituents to the best of my ability.

I will here state, that I am not a schooled and trained politician or general office seeker. I shall endeavor to confine my efforts to home interests and issues, among which will be to labor strenuously in favor of Free Schools and the passage of a law that will empower and permit us to sustain them according to the wish and will of the friends of intelligence and education. With home issues, interests and Free School as my platform, honesty and integrity to constitute my motto, you may announce Sol D. Bayless as a free and independent candidate for the office of Representative.

My best bow and compliments to the voters of Allen County, I am theirs if they so desire at the ballot-box.

SOL. D. BAYLESS.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We have never known any other medicine win as large a share of public confidence in so short a time as this has done. It has not been more than a year since we first heard of it, and it now stands at the head of all remedies of the kind. We have never used any of it ourselves, having had no occasion, as our "crown of glory" not only as yet retains its original color, but gets more so—but some of our friends have, and we have never known it to fail in restoring the hair to its original color. We advise such as are becoming prematurely gray, to give the "Restorative" a trial.—[Chester (Illinois) Herald. Sold by all good Druggists.

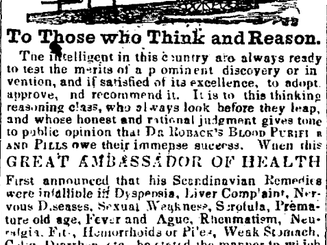
DR. ROBACK'S BLOOD PURIFIER AND BLOOD PILLS,

THE GREAT

Scandinavian Vegetable Remedies



To Those who Think and Reason.

The intelligent in this country are always ready to test the merits of a prominent discovery or invention, and if satisfied of its excellence, to adopt, approve, and recommend it. It is to this thinking reasoning class, who always look before they leap, and whose honest and rational judgment gives tone to public opinion that Dr. Roback's Blood Purifier and Pills owe their immense success. When this

GREAT AMBASSADOR OF HEALTH

First announced that his Scandinavian Remedies were infallible in Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Nervous Diseases, Sexual Weakness, Scrofula, Premature old age, Fever and Ague, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Piles, Hemorrhoids or Piles, Weak Stomach, Colic, Diarrhea, etc., he stated the manner in which they operated. Their actual effects were compared by scrupulous men, with the distinguished Physician's statements, and it was found that every stage of the progress of cure, was precisely as he had described it. The result was that the mind of the country became interested, and that persons of the highest standing in every city and town in the Union, patronized the preparations, and admit the claims of the Physicians Swede, to be the First Medical Discoverer of the age.

THE BLOOD PURIFIER AND PILLS are now universally recommended by well informed and candid persons, as an immediate cure for

INDIGESTION,

Costiveness, diseases of the Kidneys, Cramps in the Stomach, Wind, Colic, Pain between the Shoulders, Nausea, Headache,

LIVER COMPLAINT.

AUTOGRAPH LETTERS.

Of distinguished men in every profession, warmly recommending the preparations may be seen at Dr. Roback's office.

In the SCANDINAVIAN VEGETABLE BLOOD PILLS are united three great medicinal properties which Physicians have but rarely tried in vain to combine in one preparation. They relieve the bowels, purify the blood, and invigorate the constitution at once and the same time. To this fact all who try them will subscribe. The absence of minerals, and of every stupefying drug, renders them harmless, even to the most delicate female, or the feeblest child. None can doubt their superiority at once on a single trial—they are not only better, but, in fact, cheaper than any other Pills, for it takes a less number of them to produce a better effect.

Price of the Scandinavian Blood Purifier, 50 cents per bottle, or $5 per half dozen; Scandinavian Blood Pills, 25 cents per box, or five for $1.

☞ Read Dr. Roback's Special Notices and Certificates, published in a companion part of this paper from time to time. Dr. Roback's Medical Almanac and Family adviser containing a great amount of interesting and valuable Medical information can be had gratis of any of his agents throughout the country.

CARLISLE, Warren Co., O., March 8, 1858

DR C. W. ROBACK—Dear Sir; For the benefit of suffering humanity, permit me to say that I have found your Scandinavian Blood Purifier and Blood Pills a sure cure for Indigestion and Liver Complaint. I have suffered from these complaints for five years and have tried a great many physicians but all to no purpose. I was advised by a friend to try your Blood Purifier and Pills, and also, I was living in Cincinnati at the time, and I went to your office and purchased one bottle of the Purifier and one box of Pills to commence with, and bless the day I found your valuable medicines, for I am enjoying good health at present, and feel confident that the cure is permanent. Let others buy and take what they please, as for me, give me the Blood Purifier and Pills for all chronic di

A Dose of Medicine Hard to Work Off.—The Evansville [Ind.] Journal of Wednesday tells the following amusing story of the way the Sheriff of that county managed to arrest a robber, who had broken into the safe of the Pavillion Hotel, and then ran away to St Louis. It says:

Following him to St Louis, after a good deal of trouble, Gavitt found his lodgings, and was watching the premises at a very early hour in the morning, before the inmates were moving, when a small boy came out of the house, and, being accosted by the Ex-Sheriff, told him he was going to get a Doctor for a new lodger. The Ex Sheriff professed himself to be a physician who would be happy to attend upon the invalid Being introduced to the sick chamber, and having examined the tongue and felt the pulse, was profoundly cogitating upon the diagnosis of the case, when the affectionate wife and sister-in-law of the patient anxiously asked what he could do for the sufferer. The Doctor replied that he should prescribe a pair of close fitting handcuffs, which he immediately took from his pocket, and applied to the wrists of his patient. The effects of the application were sudden and violent, but the symptoms yielded at once upon the appearance of a St Louis police officer, who was in attendance at the door, and the prisoner settled down into a quiet repose.

Pursuit of a Horse Thief.—The Dallas [Texas] Herald contains an account of the pursuit and death of Jo Meadows, a noted horse thief and desperado, whose adventures have given him a wide notoriety in North eastern Texas. The letter written at Kaufman, says that Messrs Dunn, Woodward and Love, of Navarro County, had returned from their pursuit of Meadows. Two of these men had devoted about three months most diligently to the apprehension of the outlaw, exhibiting in their pursuit a determination of purpose seldom equaled. These men, after satisfying themselves that Meadows was not in Texas, crossed Red River into the Indian Nation, where they became convinced that he and his gang had passed and stolen a number of horses on their way. They finally overtook the desperado, and killed him after a desperate conflict. Meadows ran some forty yards into a thicket, and fell in a ravine, where he lay, constantly firing with his six shooters at his pursuers, whenever they would attempt to approach him, as long as life lasted.

"Time Was When the Brains Were Out the Man was Dead."—That time, however, is of the past. On Saturday, the 7th inst, a man named Brown, a native of Memphis, Tenn, fruitlessly sought for work at Lagrange, Mo, and, growing despondent, undertook to end his troubles by shooting out his brains with a pistol. Obtaining the weapon, he placed the muzzle to his head and discharged the contents into his brain. Upon examination by a competent surgeon it was ascertained that the ball passed through the skull, between the eyes, and lodged in the back of the head. Part of the brain was scattered over the front of the hat.

The St Louis Democrat says the most singular feature of the affair is that Mr Brown is in a rapid way toward recovery. On Thursday he was able to sit up in bed and converse intelligently with all who called upon him. There is no doubt of the truthfulness of the statement, and the case is one of the most wonderful instances that are occasionally recorded where parties have recovered from the effect of wounds in those parts of the system which, under almost any circumstances, it has been considered certain and immediate death to disturb. The affair has excited the earnest attention of the medical profession.

A Couple Sold.—A few days since we chanced to stumble into an auction sale of damaged dry-goods, where the bids were spirited, and the large crowds of males and females were vieing with each other in their offers, when a pair of bed blankets were put up, and a dozen bids were raised for them. The puzzled auctioneer, however, caught the highest bid, which was we think, one dollar, from a female, who seemed determined to have them at any price; when, ere he could say "going," a male voice from the opposite side of the room cried out:

"Dollar fifty."

"Two dollars," echoed the woman, elbowing her way through the dense mass of females who were separated from the males by a long counter, upon which the glib-tongued functionary walked to and fro with the goods. Turning to the other side, he commenced anew his stereotyped vocabulary of choice of speech, till he touched the finale.

"Two fifty," nodded the man.

"Thank ye, sir. Going at two fifty."

"Three," screamed the woman.

"Four," replied the man

"Go the fifty?" said the auctioneer, turning to the woman, with a half suppressed smile on his small, sober visage.

A nod from the woman.

"Four fifty I'm offered; go me the five. Come, don't be afraid; they are worth double the money Go the five?"

"Yes, and that's all."

"Sold to Capt Smith for five dollars," cried the knight of the hammer, almost bursting with uncontrollable laughter.

"Smith!" exclaimed the woman, raising herself on tiptoe to catch a glance; "Captain Smith! what, my husband! Why, you good for nothing man, you've been bidding against your own wife! Oh, you impudence! but I won't have them in the house!"

☞ An encampment of Gipsies has been established near Buffalo, in the neighborhood of the old Indian Mission. There are twenty five wagons. The Buffalo Express thinks the gang is the same that was recently driven from the neighborhood of Cincinnati, on account of their thieving propensities. They say they are from Cornwall and Lancashire, England, and they are waiting for a large detachment—some three hundred—of the tribe to join them. They will be ordered to leave their present quarters.

☞ Senator Bright, of Indiana, has, it is said, become a member of the Roman Catholic Church. His brother Lucas is already of that persuasion. —New York Tribune.

The story originates in the rumor that Bright, the M. P. for Manchester and head of the Radicals in the British Parliament, is about to join the Church of Rome, of which his brother-in-law, Lucas, is a distinguished champion.

Another Coincidence.—A correspondent of the Wheeling Intelligencer, brings to mind a fact that on the 4th of August 1492, Columbus bade adieu to the shores of the Old World to search for a continent in the western hemisphere, and remarks the coincidence that on the 4th of Aug. 1858, the continent discovered by Columbus was united with the Old World by a telegraphic cable.

Polygamy vs The Book of Mormon.—The Utah correspondent of the New York Times develops some curious facts in relation to polygamy among the Mormons. It appears that the Book of Mormon, the standard authority among the people, expressly forbids and denounces polygamy and concubinage; and that in establishing the system of many wives in his community Brigham Young has directly contravened an explicit command.

☞ The Secretary of the Interior has decided that the law of 1850, granting to the States the swamp and overflowed lands, is not applicable to Minnesota, and that the statute does not extend to States admitted into the Union subsequent to its passage.

Steam Canal-Boats.—The late experiments made on the Erie Canal, N Y, to substitute steam for horse power, has resulted very satisfactorily The steam canal boats run with half the cost and twice the speed at least. It seems to be conceded that this experiment will work a complete revolution in propelling boats

☞ "Pa didn't you whip me for biting Tom my?"

"Yes, my child, for you hurt him very much."

"Well then Pa, you ought to whip ma's music teacher, too, for he bit her right right in the mouth, and I know it hurt her, because she put her arms around his neck and tried to choke him."

☞ A servant, sent to match a castor-bottle, returned with one of an entirely different pattern. After scolding some time the mistress said, "Stupid, do you not see that the two are entirely different?" "No, mum," was the reply. "only one of them is different."

☞ When you go to drown yourself, always put off your clothes, they may fit your wife's second husband.

Why is the letter G like the sun? because it is the centre of li-g-ht.

of the State of Pennsylvania (except the counties of Erie, Alleghaney and Philadelphia) State of Wisconsin, and the northern part of Indiana.

THE world wide reputation of these machines renders puffing unnecessary. All who have used Singer's Machines testify to their superior merits over all others. Over 12 000 have been sold and are now in active operation, and not one has proved a failure! By simply changing the needle and thread the same machine will execute precisely every variety of work, coarse or fine, on cloth or leather. From $200 to $500 a year can be cleared by any individual using this machine more than can be realized by hand.

Singer has also brought out a new lighter and more suited for beauty and expedition by far surpasses all other Family Machines. These machines use two threads, forming a lock stitch is even in the goods sewed, and making a ripped seam on both sides of the cloth, which makes it much stronger and better to rip than hand sewing, and does not use more than two thirds as much thread as the chain stitch machine.

These machines are for sale by the undersigned at his office on North Fifth Street, opposite Goods Hall, Reading Pennsylvania.

Dyspepsia Indigestion, Nausea, Constipation Flatulency, Loss of Appetite or any Bilious Complaints arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels producing Cramps Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c &c.

All of these ills yield like magic toits vilifying influence upon the system, and for a person in advanced years, or recovering from sickness of any kind, nothing can be more conducive to their convalescence than the use of these Bitters as per directions on the bottles,

Scarcely four years have elapsed since the first introduction of "Dr. J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters" to the public, and such has been the success of this article after its tested efficacy by a discriminating public, that during the last year nearly half a million bottles were sold, with a continuous demand in excess of the supply with all the facilities the proprietors have been able to command in its preparation.

Are you dyspeptic? Then take these Stomach Bitters.

Are you bilious? Try one bottle of these Bitters, and be relieved at once

Are you annoyed by indigestion or constipation? Remove the cause by the free use of these Bitters

Have you fever and ague? How many thousands in the West and South have been cured of this constitution-destroying disease by the free use of these Bitters!

All should try this great Anidote We venture to affirm that, when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are used, a case of Fever and Ague cannot occur: therefore, no family consulting their own interest can afford to do without it.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

In recommending to your use Dr J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, it is but just to state that as a simulant to the system, in imparting strength and vigor, preparatory to periodical stages, which are of times attended with much pain and trouble we know of no preparation more happily adapted to all afflictions consequent upon this cause, and for cramps in stomach, cholera morbus, and all ailments arising from over indulgence in fruits, vegetables, ice creams, &c., it is certain and almost its antagonys remedy, and no family should be with out it

One wineglassful taken three times each before meals, or half the quantity in the patients are in a weak condition, and increased in proportion to their strength, will be found a great tonic agent, which all will appreciate when personally assured of the facts, as they will be by giving the Bitters one trial

☞ CAUTION ☜

Carefulness should be observed, but more particularly when the health is at stake. Since these Bitters have, from their medical qualities, become so popular there have been a great many concoctions called Stomach Bitters and often represented to be the same in virtue as Dr Hostetter's, palmed upon the public Be careful of these villainous compounds" Our Bitters are put up in square quart bottles and covered with the patent metallic cap stamped "Hostetter's Stomach Bitters," and Dr J Hostetter blown in the glass. All others are imitation.

THE OCEAN CABLE.

BY ALFRED BURNET.

Join the Cable—join it true—
Sink it 'neath the waters blue,
Where Old Ocean's foaming tide,
Floweth onward far and wide.
Join the Cable,—join it true—
Making one world out of two!

Lay the Cable—let it rest
Underneath old ocean's breast,
Down beneath Atlantic's waves,
Down beneath its depths and caves,
Lay the Cable—let it rest,
O, achievements—last and best!

Let it rest beneath the waves,
With buried ships, and drowned men's graves.
But secrets of the deep never tell
To make our breasts with horror swell—
Let living fingers touch the wires
And tell what in each land transpires!

Lay the Cable! It is done!
Tiding now from sire to son
Flash across the heaving main,
And sire and son unite again,
John Bull and Jonathan shake hands,
United now by union bands.

Not! work! Let deathless fame
Attend the head—the heart the name
Of each, who toiled this end to gain—
This lightning line across the main;
And by their country honored be,
The heroes who have chained the sea!

The Cable's laid! The work is done,
And joined the hands of sire and son,
May words of friendship ever be
Transmitted neath the sounding sea,
The task is o'er, the work's complete,
Hold in friendship nations greet!

"Pop Gun" Smith.

We must, as a preface, beg Mr. Smith's pardon for using the familiar nick name of "pop-gun," but, as he is better known by that cognomen than any other, and inasmuch as he don't care "hary red," for the name, but rather glories in it, as a mark of honor conferred upon him by his enemies—and therefore we use it.

Well—the apology and preface nearly spoil what we intended to say, and, we are afraid that the preface should have been the perioration But we will proceed with what we intended to say.

On Tuesday evening last the Hall was crowded with an anxious audience, waiting to hear an address from Mr. Smith, of Fort Wayne While the crowd was collecting, Mr. Colerick, also of Fort Wayne, and formerly an Old-Line Whig, entertained the audience with one of those short but eloquent speeches, for which he is so justly celebrated. He made his theme the recently settled difficulties between this country and Great Britain—alluding to former differences between the two countries at the same time—and showed how our Democratic Administration had made the British Lion kneel at the foot of the American Eagle. His remarks were received with applause throughout

Then Mr. Smith came forward. He said Colerick had fired a Paxaian Gun into the ranks of the enemy—but he would try and see what a "Pop-Gun" could do He litterally "pulled off his coat and rolled up his sleeves," and if the Black Republicans did not hear a few home truths, then we do not know the meaning of language. We regret that our limited space will not allow us to go into an extended review of his truly able speech. He spoke of the comparative benefits derived by the country from Democratic and Republican rule—has showed that all the great works of the Nation, and all the great Reforms had been accomplished under Democratic rule—that the Republicans (or by what other name they now go,) Party, had in every instance sought to build up the Aristocrat at the expense of the Poor man. He told about John U Pettit, having voted for a bill to increase the pay of the officers of the Army, who receive from $100 to $2000 per month, and never having said a word in behalf of the poor soldiers, who does the work, and runs all the risks for $8 a month. He spoke at some length of the Atlantic Telegraph Enterprise, which, thanks to an over-ruling Providence, is now successfully completed, and showed how a Democratic Administration had fostered and encouraged the gigantic enterprise, while the Republican members of Congress were so busy watching "bleeding Kansas," and sympathizing with the "poor down trodden African," that they failed to notice the matter until the booming of the cannon announced its success.

But we must "dry up." It is impossible for us to notice all the points he made in his truly argument. All we have to say, is—if you ever have the opportunity, go and hear him You will be sure to "get your money back." He is no office holder, nor office seeker; but one of us—a plain hard working Gun Smith, and his remarks come with sledge hammer force to the minds of our fellow laborers.—Huntington Dem.

From the Wyandotte (Kansas) Argus, Aug 5.

The Cause of the Rejection of the English Proposition.—In accordance with universal expectation, the election on Monday last resulted in the rejection of the ordinance presented by Congress for the acceptance or rejection of the people of Kansas Just what the vote may have been will not be known until the Board of Commissioners have performed their work, which will probably not be in several weeks.

The causes which have conspired to produce this result are mainly as follows:

1st. The officers elected under the Lecompton constitution were chiefly extremists, in whom the people had no confidence, and to whom they were unwilling to confide the destinies of a new State.

2d The Legislature which was to come into power had the ordinance been accepted was chosen when the notorious Lane was at the zenith of his power, and a majority of the members were understood to be pledged to his election to the U. S Senate.

To these two considerations may be attributed in the main the defeat of this measure. Other consideration of course had their influence. Many of the people were of the opinion that we ought to remain a Territory until we were better able pecuniarily to assume the expenses of a State government. Others again desire the guardianship and protection of the federal government, believing property and life insecure should the government officers and troops be withdrawn. Pro-slavery men very generally voted against, because they preferred to remain a slave Territory rather than become a free State, while many Democrats voted against it for the sake of retaining Gov. Denver, and the other federal appointees in office, as their places would on the adoption of the ordinance have passed into the hands of the ultra republicans.

Two Children Picked up in Lake Erie.—The Windsor Herald gives the following particulars of the finding of two children floating in Lake Erie on Thursday last:

Mr Owen was crossing from Sandusky to Kingsville in a small schooner when, about eight miles from one of the islands, he fell in with a small boat containing two children, the eldest about eleven or twelve—a girl—the other much smaller. The boat was full of water drifting before the wind, and they up to their necks in water. From being so long in the water they had become almost speechless, and were with difficulty freed from their hold on the boat. From the eldest Mr Owen learned their names and to where they belonged, and kindly took them home. From the father he learned that they had been in the water from eight A M to five P M They had been seen in the boat in the morning, shortly after which they were missing. The father started in pursuit, but failing to find them returned to the island.

The Way the Opposition to the Democratic Party Reformed the State Offices in Indiana.

In 1854, a fusion party was formed in this State, composed of Know Nothings, Abolitionists and disaffected Democrats, in opposition to the Democratic party. They called it the "People's Party." The professed object of the fusion party was to bring about a reform in various offices of the country. They said the old political parties of the country had become corrupt and needed reforming. They intended to discard the old corrupt politicians of all partigs and select none but honest men for office, without regard to former political associations. This all sounded very well By these professions, the organization of Know Nothing lodges and the excitement that was raised in regard to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, and the passage of the Kansas and Nebraska bill, the fusion party succeeded in electing Secretary, Auditor and Treasurer of State and a majority of the State Legislature

Well, how did they carry out their professions of reform, after they got into power? The history of the way they administered the offices will tell the story. If TALBOT was the "honest man" they elected State Auditor. He permitted the Gramercy Bank, at Lafayette, and the Shawnee Bank, at Covington, to withdraw the securities placed in his office, for the security of the note-holders of those Banks, and which it was his duty sacredly to keep, for the purposes for which the law required them to be deposited. By this transaction, which would result either of dishonesty or incompetency, the people who held the notes of these Banks lost many thousand dollars In addition to this, Talbot went out of office with $10,000, belonging to the State, in his hands, that he did not pay over and for which a judgment against him and his securities was recently obtained.

Dr NOFFSINGER, the honest Treasurer elected by the fusion party, loaned about $50,000 of the people's money to speculators, and protested drafts for the amount now lie in the Treasurer's office

A Dr COLLINS was elected Secretary of State by the Reform party. As the duties of that office are merely of that of a clerk, and none of the State's money comes into his possession, it would naturally be supposed that he went out of office with clean hands, and that he didn't steal anything. But not so. On the eve of leaving his office he deeded to himself a large quantity of the Swamp Lands of the State, for which he paid not a dollar. He has since been compelled by a legal action, to disgorge and the Deeds have been cancelled.

This was the way the fusion party practiced reform. What was the fusion party in this State in 1854 is now the Republican party, except such as were too honest to continue with such a party, and we are happy to say there were many such, who had been inveigled into its ranks through the agency of Know Nothingism and anti Nebraskaism.

The Republican party is now asking the people to turn out of the State offices Democrats, who have faithfully and honestly discharged their duties, and put their candidates in. They should remember the way they conducted the offices when they had them, before giving that party their support.—Richmond Jeffersonian.

The Rescue of the Bells.—A gentleman of this city has permitted us to make the following extract from a letter written by a friend in Harrison county, giving a brief account of the rescue of the Bells, from the Brandenburg (Ky.) jail:

I suppose you have heard of the Rescue of Mr Bell and his son from the Brandenburg jail, who had been maliciously and forcible taken from their home, especially the former, on suspicion of decoying and running off negroes from Kentucky. They were rescued in open day, about 1 o'clock, by two men. Horace and John Bell sons of the imprisoned man, lately from California, expressly for that purpose. Horace Bell is a perfect meat axe—fearless and brave He distinguished himself for his daring with Walker in the Nicaragua expedition, and he has several witnesses to prove he was in a hot place in the was of several bullet holes in his outer man. They were armed to the teeth with twenty shooters, an axe, crowbar, and other defensive weapons. They landed their skiff opposite the jail—sallied forth—entered the jail, occupied by the jailor and family—demanded the key—threatened the life of the jailor and turnkey if they made any resistance—entered the first door by the key—forced the next with the crowbar and axe—took their father and brother and after they left the jail the woman gave the alarm—the citizens repaired to the jail and to the river under arms, and found the party were about one third of the way from the shore. The Cornerpeckers threatened to fire on them. Horace replied, "fire away," presenting his twenty shooter at them which is good for 150 yards They fired from the shore when the skiff was midway in the river, and it was returned form the skiff. but no harm done. The Bells waved their hats before they landed on freedom's soil. The Cornerackers are exceedingly mortified that two Hoosiers did most daringly rescue those two prisoners from the county jail of old Meade.

Beginning to Appreciate their Condition.—Within the last few months there has been a tremendous reaction against the Republicans in all the free States, for reasons that have been frequently stated in our columns. They begin to perceive the ill fate which fortune has in store for them, and express it in whispers through the columns of their leading journals Hear the Boston correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing under date of August 7. He says:

"It does not seem quite so certain as it did a few months ago, that the Republicans are going to have a majority in the next House of Representatives. We begin to think that it does not look as if there was to be a 'clean sweep' in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, and the contest looks each day more and more doubtful in Illinois and Indiana. New England cannot be expected to do any better. Of course you cannot expect no gains, numerically, in Massachusetts, for the whole eleven members are now of the Republican household, but it is not to be disguised that we may lose two members, and even more. Things are looking badly in the two Boston districts"

He almost concedes the defeat of that political charlatan, Mr. 'Clifton House' Burlingame, the worthy ally and confederate of the extinct Blair, of St. Louis.

A Canal through the Rocky Mountains.—During the late debate in the British House of Commons on the subject of the renewal of the Hudson Bay Company's privileges Lord Bury affirmed that a communication might readily be established between Lake Superior and the Pacific Ocean, by means of a ship canal conneting the head waters of the Saskatchewan and Columbia rivers. Both rivers take their rise in the Rocky Mountains, the Columbia flowing west to the Pacific, and the Saskatchewan running east of Lake Winnipeg, a little to the northwest of Lake Superior. With the exception of a single rapid, which might be avoided by a canal, he lordship stated that the navigation of the Sashatchewan offers no difficulty. With that one exception, a vessel of considerable size can be taken up to the foot of the Rocky Mountains, and at this point there is a gap in the mountains, which would interpose no great obstacle to a junction of the Columbia and Saskatchewan, whose sources are but a little distance apart. Thus a direct water communication would be established with the Pacific.

Nicaragua and the United States.—A correspondent of the New York Times, at Granada writes that the rumor that the United States Government was about to blockade the ports of Nicaragua had created quite a sensation there General Lamar, our Minister, had a protracted interview, on the 22d ult., with the Nicaraguan Cabinet, and informed them that his Government was about to take decisive measures in the pending questions

Distinguished Characters at Bedford.

The Baltimore American was favored with a letter the other day, before the visiting party had left, alluding in modest terms to the President's suite at Bedford, as well as to the persons of the British Minister and wife:

Sir William Gore Ousley, with his lady and daughter, seem to enjoy themselves very much, and will probably remain for some time after the departure of the President. He is rather a gouty and unwieldly old gentleman, with an apparent disposition to keep still when he is comfortably located. He is very much liked, and is free and easy in his intercourse with all, having apparently as little of the reverse of aristocracy, about him as the President himself. Mrs Ousley is an American lady, one of the Van Ness family, and was, I believe, born in Vermont. She has quite a majestic appearance, and is dressed in deep mourning

Miss Ousley is apparently not over eighteen years of age, of great sprightliness, the best dancer and waltzer at the Springs, and rides on horseback with a grace and reckless speed that renders it difficult for the gallants here to keep pace with her. She dresses in black, and though not decidedly handsome, is by no means homely. She does not seem disposed to participate in the labors of the toilet, so common among American ladies at summer resorts, but looks rather to enjoyment and to please herself than to join in the effort to outshine others in dry goods and jewelry.

While alluding to the toilets of the ladies, I may remark that the three ladies who pay the least attention to the requirements of fashion are the President's niece, Miss Lane, the daughter of Senator Bright, and Miss Ousley. Miss Lane is of a very neat person and figure but is always attired with great simplicity and good taste. She seems to discard all jewelry except ear-rings and breastpin, and is the last person you would take to be the leading lady of the President's household In her manners she is free and courteous to every one, without a particle of pride or hauteur

Miss Bright has a bright, good humored countenance, and an easy, graceful manner, equally free from hauteur, and as democratic in her intercourse with the visitors of her companion, Miss Lane. Her pleasing manners render her one of the leading belles of the season. They seem to have come here to enjoy themselves, and may be found strolling on the mountain in the morning promenading or riding out in the afternoon and evening, and joining in the waltz or quadrille at night; and do not consider it sacrilegious to be seen twice in one day in the same dress.

Minister Wright—Baron Humboldt.—A foreign correspondent of the St Louis Republican visited Governor Wright, our Minister at Berlin, on the 4th of July, and there met Baron Von Humboldt, of which incident he says:

After repairing to the parlor he remained for some time longer in conversation, and, on leaving, every one advanced and pressed the noble traveler's hand, with many hearty wishes that his valuable life might long be spared to the world. The Rev Mr Clark very justly said in his remarks at dinner, that he would rather be able to say he had seen Baron Humboldt, than to say he had seen every King, Queen or Emperor in the world," a sentiment in which I am sure every American present heartily concurred. Every one present felt under additional obligations to Governor Wright for the opportunity he afforded us of enjoying for so many hours the society of his distinguished guest. And here I cannot help saying, that every American who was present, and every one who has visited Berlin, I know will join me in saying, that the news of the confirmation of Governor Wright by the Senate was received with the liveliest satisfaction As Baron Humboldt himself has said, "he is universally respected" and the President and the Senate did wisely when they indignantly frowned upon the vile slanders that interested parties had given publicity to, concerning his penuriousness and cold water principles, and time will prove how deeply he was wronged by such irresponsible scribblers and meddlesome place hunters.

What Has the Opposition Ever Accomplished?—What has the opposition to the Democratic party ever accomplished in a national way? They enacted the Alien and Sedition Laws, but the Democratic party repealed them, and since then they have not been heard of. At the instance of Thomas Jefferson the Democratic party enacted the present naturalization law; the Democratic party divorced the Federal Government from a gigantic money corporation, and established the Independent Treasury system, a measure the opposition reviled, but whose excellence is universally acknowledged, and no one now has the temerity to advocate its repeal. It enacted the tariff under which the country has prospered. In 1812 it humbled British insolence. It acquired Louisiana, Florida, Texas and Mexico, and thus has laid the foundation for one of the mightiest and freest of governments, that has ever existed upon the face of the earth. A Democratic State was the first to abolish slavery, and every free State, excepting one, that has been admitted into the Union, has been admitted under a Democratic President. In every State in the Union where the rights of the people have been enlarged and made more secure, through their constitutions, it has been done by the Democratic party. The Fugitive Slave law may be said to belong to the opposition, as it bears the approving signature of Millard Fillmore. What other great measure can the opposition lay claim to? They had the honor, it is true, of expelling some of their own members from the floor of Congress two years ago, when they were in a majority there for shameless corruption—a thing the Democratic party was never constrained to do.

What else has the opposition done?—Franklin Democrat.

The Fraser River Gold Diggings Pronounced a Humbug.—A merchant of this city, who has been extensively engaged in shipping goods to California, went out three months ago to attend to his business affairs. On his arrival he found that all the miners of Greenwood Valley where he had a brother residing, and many other places in the neighborhood of Sacramento, were clearing out for the New El Dorado, on Frazer River. He, therefore, concluded to proceed thither himself, and ascertain what chances there might be of making a good "spec," by sending his goods to that region instead of to California. He now writes home, to the effect that he "has seen the elephant, horns and all, and it is the greatest humbug ever got up." This information is obtained from a respectable firm in this city, who assure us that it may be relied upon as correct.—N. Y. Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16th.—The new Granadian Minister had an interview with Secretary Cass this morning at the State department, and communicated to him the Cass-Herren Treaty as ratified by the Congress of that country. There is only one alteration therein, and not three as heretofore, and that refers to the naval coal depot, but the treaty is accompanied by two propositions in the the nature of explanations.

Tremendous Snow Squall in July.—The wife of George Snow, of Arkansas, gave bath to three children July 26.

☞ A young lady in Orange, N. J., one evening last week received a visit from a lady acquaintance and a young gent, who was introduced as a stranger. The young lady at once put on her sweetest look and wore her prettiest smile, as it seems she was in the habit of doing, to captivate charming young gents—and this one, by the way, was a fine looking fellow. After sundry little flirtations, the lad managed to solicit her company for the evening, and she, lisped an "I have no objections." Things went on nicely, until lo! to the astonishment of the would be courted lass, she found her supposed beau to be an old acquaintance of like gender with herself, who had donned male toggery. Of course both laughed, but the laugh was rather forced on one side.

Model Letters from Absent Spouses.

In Appleton's Cyclopedia of Wit and Humor, edited by W. E Burton, the celebrated comedian, we find the following ingenious correspondence, illustrating the fact that married people sometimes find amusement and comfort in each other's absence:

Common Pleas Judge.—It being understood that Joseph Brackenridge, now serving by appointment of the Governor, is the only candidate for Common Pleas Judge for the district composed of Adams and Allen Counties, the central committees of those counties have concluded it is not necessary to hold a district convention. We therefore add to the Democratic ticket the names of Joseph Brackenridge, for Common Pleas Judge, and John Colerick, for District Attorney.

European News by the Atlantic Telegraph — In another column will be found news from London up to yesterday morning, brought by the submarine telegraph! What can be more wonderful than this great and glorious achievement of science, putting us in almost immediate contact with the old world, annihilating time and space, and bringing news from the most remote regions in less time than it took a few years ago to hear from a neighboring town. The receipt of this news by the cable is a gratifying and convincing proof that this stupendous work is an absolute success, and its practical working must convince the most sceptical that there is no humbug in it.

FIRE!—On Tuesday morning last, at about 7 o'clock, the front building of Messrs Hill & Orbison, forwarders, situate on the basin, at the foot of Columbia Street, was discovered to be on fire. The fire had caught from a stove pipe in the second story, and in a short time the whole upper part of the building was in a blaze. Fortunately there were no goods stored there, and all those in the lower story were promptly removed and saved by the zeal and activity of our citizens, whose conduct on the occasion is deserving every praise. Mechanics Fire Co No 2. with their engine, and Alert No 1, with their hooks and ladders, were speedily on the ground, and by their energetic efforts, ably aided by the bystanders, checked the progress of the fire and prevented it communicating to the rear building, which is a frame, and was filled with goods and produce. The interior of the building was consumed, and the beautiful stone front thrown down, leaving nothing but the walls standing. Laborers were at work the next morning clearing away the ruins, and the warehouse will be immediately rebuilt; in the meantime the business is continued without interruption in the rear building. Messrs Hill & Orbison's loss amounts to $1,500 or $2,000 No insurance.

The firemen and citizens generally are entitled to the highest commendation for their prompt and efficient labors, by which the fire was confined to the building where it orginated, and a large amount of valuable property saved

A meeting will be held at the Court house on Monday evening next to consider the propriety of forming a Bucket Company, auxilary to the fire department A company of this kind, properly organized and equipped, might be of essential service in case of fire.

The Prospect.—The State Journal publishes a table showing the vote in each Legislative district at the last gubernatorial election. If the same vote should be given for members of the Legislature at the ensuing election, the new Legislature will stand—Senate, Democrats 27, Republicans 23; House, Democrats 59, Republicans 41. Dem majority on joint ballot 22.

☞ In another column will be found a card from SOL. D. BAYLESS, announcing himself an independent candidate for the Legislature Sol is a clever fellow and is generally believed to be not lacking in shrewdness and common sense; we must however be permitted to say he does not show much of either in this movement, and is sadly fooled if he expects to be elected. Allen County is democratic, and will be represented in the next Legislature by Schuyler Wheeler and Nelson McLain, the nominees of our democratic convention.

Fort Wayne City Directory and Business Mirror.—Mr. H. T. Bennett, agent for C. S Williams, publisher, Cincinnati, is now here soliciting subscribers and preparing matter for a Directory of our city, to be published and delivered to subscribers at as early a day as a work of this nature can be got ready. Subscription price $1 50.

The work will contain an alphabetical list of all our citizens, a directory of the streets, list of churches and hours of service, municipal and other public officers, benevolent and other societies and associations, &c., &c The plan of the work will at once recommend it to the favorable attention of our business men. Such a publication is needed here, and will add much to the character and reputation of our city; we therefore trust it may be liberally encouraged, and such a number of subscribers be obtained as will justify the publisher in putting the work to press.

Speedy Justice.—Martin Witz, was arrested in this place on Tuesday last, charged with stealing a steer in Adams Co., and was taken to Decatur, tried, convicted, and sentenced to states prison for 2 years, and a fine of $30 00.

Free School—The subscription for our free school is progressing slowly, but we have strong hopes that enough will be raised to keep open the schools until the next year's public funds are received. A few hundreds are yet necessary to ensure this desirable object, and we hope all friends of free schools, who have not already subscribed, will come forward at once, and liberally. If every parent would contribute one-half what it would cost to send their children to private schools, a sufficient amount would be raised to keep the school going. They ought to do this,—it would be good economy—and an act of justice as well to the school as to their children.

Indiana Staats Zeitung—A new German paper under this title has been commenced in this city by GUSTAVUS J. NEUBERT. It is a large, neatly printed paper, thoroughly democratic in its politics, and we are told, is very ably edited. We cannot read it ourself and therefore have to take the opinion of those who can We commend it to our German friends, and advise them to get a copy and judge for themselves

Columbia City News—We have received the first number of this paper, published at Columbia City, Whitley Co by T L GRAVES It is a very fair-looking sheet, and the salutatory and editorials give evidence of superior talent on the part of the editor. It is democratic in politics, and is eminently entitled to a warm and earnest support from the democrats of Whitley Co.

GEORGE MELVILLE, An American Novel. W. R. C. Clark & Co, Publishers, Appleton's Buildings, New York.

This is a very exciting story, showing the enormities and villainies which are sometimes practised in New York, by persons moving in the higher circles; as well as the retribution which follows such wickedness, and the eventual triumph and happiness of the persecuted and virtuous. The plot is well arranged, and the characters admirably portrayed and sustained throughout.

For sale at C. L. HILL'S book store.

The Citizens of Fort Wayne.

Are respectfully requested to meet at the COURT HOUSE, on Monday evening next, Aug. 30th. to consider the propriety of forming a Bucket Company as an auxiliary to the Engine and Hook & Ladder Companies already existing. The importance of such a company must be apparent to every reflecting mind, and the value of the services of such a company, thoroughly and effectively organized, must be fully impressed upon every one who witnessed the fire upon Tuesday morning last.

☞ We find the editor of the Black Republican of this place is not the only man of his party who can tell a tough yarn about government expenditures, and swell an actual expenditure of sixty millions into an assumed one of one hundred millions. Judge Hackleman, candidate for Congress in the 4th district, has got a little ahead of Brother Bailey, and runs up the amount to $104,000,000! Our neighbor must look out for his laurels, or he will be eclipsed by some of the smaller lights of his party, and have to descend from the proud eminence he has assumed. Let him however look out that he does not get exposed as his rival did in the paragraph below:

A HARD LICK.—The poetical Judge, in speaking of the extravagance of Mr. Buchanan's Administration, at Smelser's Mill, said it was the most extravagant one that we have ever had expending $104 000 000 per year. He refered to Mr. Pierce's Administration as an economical one, expending but $54,000.000 per year. Judge Holman, in reply to the poetical Judge's statement, read an article from the Rushville Republican, of 1856, with Hackleman's mark to it (†) which labored to show that Mr. Pierce was the most extravagant President we ever had The article fairly proved that Mr. Pierce had expended $100,000.000 annually for governmental expenses This was something that Hackleman was not expecting, and if a bomb shell had exploded in his face he could not have looked worse."—Rushville Jacksonian.

From the West.—Per U S Express to Bonville August 25th.—Utah mail with dates to July 31st one week later has arrived. The news is uninteresting.

The army continues occupied in preparations for winter All was quiet at Salt Lake City—Surgeon Walls, of the army, arrived with the mail.

The Board of Commissioners constituted by the English bill have issued a proclamation declaring the proposition rejected by 9.512 majority. The whole vote was 13,088 votes No fraudulent votes were received. A few precincts were rejected on account of the informalities

A dispatch from Independence 21st, per U S Express Co. to Boonville, says that Santa Fe mail with dates to the 2d inst, had arrived. A private letter received in Santa Fe intimates that war with the Navajoe Indians is inevitable. they having determined not to surrender the murderer of Major Brooks' negro and even invited the troops to fight.

Public Sentiment in Kansas about Admission.—Gentlemen of the highest intelligence who have travelled through Kansas, and conversed freely with its inhabitants, report that all is perfectly quiet, and that the farming interests are in an extremely thriving condition. There is almost universally expressed, by all parties, a decided opposition to admission into the Union as a State They allege that their population is too small, and that revenues in business have made them too poor to incur the expenses of a State government. —Washington Union.

Another Cable Scheme—It is said that parties are preparing to take the preliminary steps to obtain permission from the Russian Government to construct a line of telegraph from St Petersburg to Oregon, which, being on land all the way, except the thirty five miles of Behring's Straits, will be exempt from the caprices of Neptune, and capable of being laid through a country no colder or more unhabitable than latitude fifty degrees of the eastern shores of America. It is supposed that the present Emperor of Russia would not interpose any obstacles to the scheme, at least not to the necessary explorations being made. And, if it should be found to be feasible, there can be no doubt that the line, so constructed, and capable of the same ready repairs and supervision as any other land line, would be far preferable to a submerged line upward of two thousand miles in length.

There is not a Lady Living but at some periods of her life will find Dr Duponco's Golden Pills, (advertised in another column) just the thing she needs. The ingredients composing these Pills is no secret, every agent selling is presented with the Formula, and they will tell you they are perfectly harmless, yet wonderfully efficacious for the relief and cure of all those delicate diseases, from which, so many of you are daily suffering One of the first Ladies of Lafayette, Ind, wrote to the agents, saying, "of so much value do I consider Dr Duponco's Golden Pills" in my case, of distressing and painful sickness (monthly) that I would cheerfully give Five Dollars a box for them if I could not get them for less —See advertisement Headed "a Card to Ladies."

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK, August 20.

There is a very general desire on the part of the public to learn the degree of success which the electricians have met with in transmitting electrical currents through the Cable, since it was submerged: but, as yet, we have nothing beyond unofficial statements from Valentia, that it is possible to receive from Trinity Bay about 60 signals per minute If this is true, it would seem to indicate the possibility of transmitting by the system of Prof. Whitehouse, about three words of average length per minute, or by the system of Prof. Hughes, assuming that each electrical impulse may be made to point a complete letter, about 10 or 12 words per minute We understand that the Company propose to give Prof. Whitehouse ample time to test his system thoroughly; after which Prof Thompson will test his invention, which is quite different from that of Prof Whitehouse; and after him Prof Hughes, of N Y, will have an opportunity to test the capabilities of his most extraordinary invention, which is, we understand, about to be introduced on one of the lines between London and Liverpool.

The following despatch from Trinity Bay and Carbonier was received this morning by Cyrus W Field.

CARBONIER, Aug 19—The cable is working beautiful to day. I reached Cyrus Station this evening

New Telegraphic Arrangements—The French Government has accorded to the Atlantic Telegraph Company exclusive right to land cables on the Island of Miguelow, between Newfoundland and Nova Scotia The company propose to run a cable from Placentia Bay to St. Pierre, thence to Sidney, which will bring the French, islands into telegraphic communication with France and save the keeping in repair of some 4 or five hundred miles of line in Newfoundland and Cape Breton, through almost uninhabited regions

The following message was received to day

LONDON, Aug 23

To the Hon. D F. Tieman, Mayor of New York City. The Lord Mayor of London cordially reciprocates the congratulations of the Mayor of New York upon the success of so important an undertaking as the completion of the Atlantic Telegraph Cable. It is indeed one of the most glorious triumphs of the age, and reflects the highest credit upon the energy, skill and perseverance of the parties entrusted with so difficult a duty, and the Lord Mayor sincerely hopes that, by the blessing of Almighty God, it may be the means of cementing the kind feelings which now exist between the two countries

He entertained the sincere hope that if attempts were made to stir up the old resentments and passions of another epoch they would break to pieces upon common sense. Prince Albert responded that the Queen was happy of the opportunity of endeavoring to strengthen the bonds of friendship, based on the mutual prosperity and blessing of Heaven, not to be denied. He concluded with a toast to the Emperor and Empress of France. Queen Victoria left Cherbourg on the 6th inst.—under a triple salute. On the 7th the Napoleon dock was inaugurated, and the Ville de Nantes launched. It was rumored that Napoleon will visit Victoria privately at Osborn during the autumn. Wisconsin Banks

A meeting of the Busines Men of Chicago, was held at Metropolitan Hall, on the evening of the 19th inst. to express their views in regard to the Wisconsin currency, which had been thrown out by the bankers of that city. Speeches were made strongly condemnatory of the course pursued by the bankers who issued the circular The following resolutions were adopted by the meeting.

Resolved, That we believe in a sound, convertible currency and that if any of the currency or the bills of any of the banks now in circulation in this city be inconvertable; it is the duty of our bankers and business public generally, to adopt such measures as will render them readily convertible into coin or New York exchange as easily as possible.

Resolved, That we will sustain our banks in every effort made in good faith to retire inconvertible money from circulation.

Resolved, That we believe Wisconsin currency to be well secured, and if any of the banks in that State, refuse to redeem we will nevertheless take their issue at par and place in the hands of some banker who will send it home for redemption.

Resolved, That we recommend the people not to sacrifice on this money, and we believe it to be perfectly well secured and ultimately good

Wisconsin Banks—The following list embraces the Wisconsin Banks which have not yet made arrangements to redeem They are, however, purchased by F. G. Adams, No. 44 Clark street, at 1 per cent. discount, and we should therefore advise their circulation from hand to hand in the payment of debts Most of our merchants take them at par for goods:

Bank of Eau Claire, Eau Claire,
Chippewa Bank, Pepin,
Laborer's Bank, Ellsville,
Marathon County Bank, Eagle River,
Oakwood Bank, North Pepin,
St Croix Valley Bank, St Croix Falls,
Wisconsin Valley Bank, Millville,
Bank of Moneka, Gordon,
Lumberman's Bank, Centerville,
Northern Wisconsin Bank, Aurora,
Geonto County Bank, La Porte,
Shawanaw Bank, Shawanaw,
State Security Bank, Gomeken,
State Security Bank, Eau Claire,
St. Croix River Bank Brinkerhoff,

They will doubtless make arrangements to redeem in a few days—Chicago Press & Tribune, Aug 23d.

The Falling Off in the Receipts from Customs—The amount of receipts into the United States Treasury form the duties on foreign imports por the fiscal year ending the 30th of June 1858, was but 41,000,009 For the year ending the 30th day of June, 1857, they amounted to $68,000,000, being a falling of in one year of $27 000,000. This immense falling off has embarrassed the Government, and has obliged it to temporarily resort to loans and the issue to Treasury notes. The Congress of 1857, unfortunately, greatly reduced the tariff of 1846, upon the ground that it was supplying more revenue than was needed for the economical expenditures of the Government, just as the great financial storm of the summer of that year, which many wise and shrewd men discovered to be impending, burst upon the country with terrible force The effect of that storm was to severely check the importation of foreign goods for which we could not pay, and, had the old tariff been permitted to stand, it would hardly have afforded revenue enough for the support of the Government. But the reduced tariff coming into operation at such an unfortunate time, together with the diminished importations, brought the Government revenue down almost one half. Under the circumstances, and with a financial crisis evidently near at hand, the passage of the tariff of 1857, was a great blunder for which the country is principally indebted to the Republican House of Representatives, which originated the bill, and passed it at the end of the short session, when there was but little time left to the Senate and President to examine its details.—Cin. Enq.

☞ Governor Corwin seems to bent on mischief, or at least to annoy seriously the "rugged issue," branch of his supporters In his speech accepting the nomination, he contradicts the assersions of slavery encroached upon the North, which is constantly made in the Black Republican Jounals He says:

If the North only exercised the confidence which belonged to power and magnanimity which belonged to conquest, there would be no danger to the country. For, notwithstanding all that we had heard of the encroachments upon the North, freedom had encroached upon slavery. After that great barrier between freedom and slavery had been broken down, freedom had rushed in and taken possession of a portion of the Louisiana Purchase So it would always be with freedom and slavery.

The Pacific Indian Difficulty—The advices from Oregon and from Washington Territory, represent our relations with the Indian tribes as indicative of a war of either submission on their part or extermination of them on ours Gen Harney in ordered from the Utah Campaign, it is now well understood, to go to the Pacific side and conduct the operations of the U. S forces in the Indian country there. It is now the general belief, from reliable representations, that there is a strong combination among the hostile tribes to carry on the war, in order to prevent the passage of our troops through their country and the construction of the military road from Fort Walla Walla to Fort Benton These combined forces present a most favorable opposition and it is the opinion of many that it will require two years to overcome it. On the other hand, the Nez Perces and the Flat heads, two of the most powerful tribes in the country, and who occupy the western slope of the Rocky Mountains, still remain friendly The new gold diggings are on the eastern slope of the Cascade Mountains, and the hope is entertained that the troops which, under the energetic movements of Gen Clarke, and concentrating in that vicinity, in connection with what countenance and aid they may receive from the miners, may soon teach the hostile tribes the folly of their intentions. It will be seen that they will be placed between two fires—that of the friendly tribes on the east and that of the troops and miners on the west. The result seems inevitable that they must soon succomb or be exterminated

A Change for the Better.—While witnessing the celebration of the completion of the Atlantic Telegraph in this city, the stringing together in close proximity of American, British, French, and German flags, and the expressions of gladness at the linking together of the American and European continents by the great invention of Morse, we could not but call to mind a favorite expression with some of our "American" friends a very few years ago. The substance of the sentiment which they then so much admired was the wish that an "ocean of fire instead of water rolled between the Eastern and Western continents," so that communication between the two might be forever cut off

Nobler and kindlier feelings, we hope and believe, now prevail. The closer union of the nations of the world is hailed with joy and gladness by men of all creeds and all parties. May this generous sentiment be fostered and encouraged and continue to grow in the hearts of the people of every clime.—N. A. Ledger.

☞ By the report of the Commissioners of Emigration, it appears that the arrivals of Castle Garden, New York, to the 4th of August this year, are but 48,665. To the same period last year there were 113,359 arrivals. This is a falling off of 65 294.

Missouri Congressional Delegation.—The next delegation in Congress from Missouri will be composed wholly of national Democrats—a gain of three.

The majorities in the several districts are as follows:

1st	J R Barret	426 majority
2d	T L Anderson	4,500 "
3d	J B Clark	4,000 "
4th	J Craig	4,000 "
5th	S H Woodson	500, "
6th	J S Phelps	5 000 "
7th	J W Noell	3,000 "

Owner Wanted.

On the 23d instant, Sheriff Kingsbury arrested a man having in his possession a gray Horse Said horse is 8 or 10 years old, has a long switch tail; is blind in the right eye, and about 15 hands high; and has collar marks on both shoulders. A half Spanish Saddle with a black quilted seat was also recovered. The horn on the Saddle is filled with brass nails with large heads. The stirrups are of iron; girth, leather, and standing martingale with brass rings. The man having the Horse is about 5 feet 8 in high. light complexion thin face, and gave his name here as Chas. Kelly, but went by the name of Fitzpatrick in Defiance, where he made a short stop. The man is now in jail at Toledo. Western papers will do well to notice this matter, that the owner of the Horse may be found That it is a stolen Horse, Sheriff K, and others have no doubt.—Toledo Blade, Aug 26th.

Yellow Fever at Charleston.—We learn that the yellow fever has become an epidemic in Charleston, South Carolina, and the people are fleeing in every direction. Quite a panic exists Sixty passengers from Charleston came through Tuesday and took the Baltimore steamer. We are informed that when the last steamer left Charleston for New York, so great was the rush of the citizens to the steamer, that it was impossible to accomodate the crowd. Many were left who were anxious to leave their afflicted city.

☞ The McKean County (Penn) Bank, we learn by the Potter County Journal, gave up the ghost a few days ago The cashier decamped with $71,000 of its funds, was arrested in New York, and committed in default of bail. The bills of the bank have been thrown out in New York. Mr Kingsbury, its president, says the Jhurnal, will secure the holders of its issue against loss, being able and willing to do so. This is one of the banks reported on lately by the Committee of Investigation

Indianapolis Correspondence.

INDIANAPOLIS, August 2.

EDITOR ENQUIRER—The nominations for Congress in this district were made on Thursday and Friday last. Martin M Ray, of Shelbyville, is the Democratic, and Albert G Porter, of Indianapolis, the Republican candidate Porter was the candidate of the Indiana American, the Know Nothing Maine law paper here, and succeeded This is an important fact, and should be known to the people of the State. You will ask who is Porter; I will tell you. He was raised a Democrat. In 1853 he was the nominee of the Democratic party for Reporter to the Supreme Court against Mr Gordon, the editor of the Temperance Chart, the organ of the Maine law party in this State, who was the Republican candidate. Porter was elected, and made an independent fortune out of the office conferred upon him by the Democratic party. Gordon, the Maine law man, went under But in 1855 the Republicans had the majority in the Legislature, and passed the Maine law—the Democracy, from the outset, denounced the law as an act of tyranny, and proceeded, in a peaceful manner, to test its validity in the courts of justice. When the Republicans prosecuted Beebe, of this city, for manufacturing lager beer, and selling a glass of it, and locked him up in jail, his case was brought before the Supreme Court. Judge David McDonald, of this city, (the present partner of Porter) and other lawyers, defended the law as right and valid, while Judge Morrison and other lawyers resisted it as wrong and unconstitutional. The court did not decide the case upon the first argument. A second argument was had, in which Dick Thompson and this Mr Porter came forward with all their powers to aid in enforcing this Maine law, and keeping poor Beebe in his dungeon for selling a glass of lager beer, while, on the other hand, our present Democratic candidate for Attorney General, Joseph E McDonald, came to the rescue on the other side, and made a most powerful argument against the law. I was a listening spectator to that argument; I remember well the closing remarks of Porter, in which he threatened the judges with political annihilation if they did not decide the law valid, turning, as he said it, to Mr Yandes, of this city, and other prominent Republicans who were sitting around him while he spoke It is, as I have been informed, to this threat that Judge Perkins alludes in his opinion in the case found in the 6th Indiana Reports, on page 521, when, in speaking of the constitutional restrictions, he says: "They are the main safeguards to the persons and property of the State; they will be maintained in so far as depends upon us, notwithstanding the intimation at the argument that whoever interposed an obstruction to the free course of this law was to be swept away by an overwhelming torrent. We shall be deterred by no such ill timed threats from what we believe to be the discharge of a solemn duty."

Well, in 1856, the Democrats refused to nominate Mr Porter to his office of reporter, but gave the nomination to Mr Tanner. Mr Porter openly joined the Republican party, and they have now nominated him for Congress that he may enter the field and make an effort to carry out the threat of sweeping away the judges who decided the Maine law unconstitutional. Can he do it? We shall see. He and Gordon, who were, as we have stated, pitted against each other in 1853, are now running together on the same Maine law ticket—Porter for Congress, and Gordon for the Legislature. A word further about Gordon. He was in the Legislature in 1857. Andy Humphries, of Green County, a Democrat, brought in a bill to repeal the Maine law, and Gordon voted against it; but still the bill passed the House where the Democrats had the majority, but was defeated by the Republican Senate. Gordon and Todd were the representatives from this county; Gordon as I have stated, voted against the repeal in the House, and Todd voted for it. Now, what do we see? Why, the Republican party, this summer, with a full knowledge of these votes, renominate Gordon and throw Todd overboard: thus as a party declaring themselves for the Maine law.

But my letter is becoming too long. I will bring it to a close. Everything is going right; the Democrats will carry the State by a large majority. You can bet on that. G.

Kentucky Election—Returns have been received from ninety seven counties, in which Louisville has a majority over McKee of 12.158. In the counties to hear from, which are Clinton, Letcher, McLean, Powell, Whitley, Rowan and Jackson, last year Garrard received 2,170, and Jones, 862. Revill's majority, it seems will be more than 13.000. They who have made bets upon the majority of Garrard, last fall being equalled at the late election, may now consider themselves, and are ready to call in the oro.

North Carolina—The Democratic majority in North Carolina is considerably larger than was at first supposed. In all but five counties the vote stands as follows for Governor:

John W Ellis (Dem.)	53.511
D. K McRae (K. N)	38 087
Democratic majority	15,424

In the Legislature the Democratic majority will be about fifty on joint ballot

☞ The mission of the Democratic party is to administer the Government so as to compel obedience to the will of the people at home, and to cause it to be respected abroad The factions who dispute its supremacy, limits their patriotism and statesmanship to a corrupt and unprincipled combination, to control the patronage of the Government. It is the partnership of Bifield and Black George. They are simply preachers. —Cin. Enq

For the Fort Wayne Sentinel.

MR. EDITOR:

A few weeks since some friends suggested my name in one of our city papers as a candidate for the office of Representative of this county in the next Legislature

Since that time I have conversed with numerous persons on the subject, and it appears to be a general desire among those who I believe to be my friends, that I should run as a candidate for the office spoken of.

I have delayed my reply through the medium of the public prints, desiring that any person, who the people might prefer to myself, might have a free and welcome entry for a campaign; but as no one has been named, and the time is fast approaching when the voters of this country will be called upon to make a selection of two persons to serve them as Legislators, I deem it proper upon my part to say, that I am now a candidate for the office, and will, if elected serve my constituents to the best of my ability.

I will here state, that I am not a schooled and trained politician or general office seeker. I shall endeavor to confine my efforts to home interests and issues, among which will be to labor strenuously in favor of Free Schools and the passage of a law that will empower and permit us to sustain them according to the wish and will of the friends of intelligence and education. With home issues, interests and Free School as my platform, honesty and integrity to constitute my motto, you may announce Sol D. Bayless as a free and independent candidate for the office of Representative.

My best bow and compliments to the voters of Allen County, I am theirs if they so desire at the ballot box.

SOL. D. BAYLESS.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We have never known any other medicine win as large a share of public confidence in so short a time as this has done. It has not been more than a year since we first heard of it, and it now stands at the head of all remedies of the kind. We have never used any of it ourselves, having had no occasion, as our "crown of glory" not only as yet retains its original color, but gets more so—but some of our friends have, and we have never known it to fail in restoring the hair to its original color. We advise such as are becoming prematurely gray, to give the "Restorative" a trial. —[Chester (Illinois) Herald. Sold by all good Druggists.

Of distinguished men in every profession, warmly recommending the preparations may be seen at Dr Roback's Office.

In the SCANDINAVIAN VEGETABLE BLOOD PILLS are united three great medicinal properties which Physicians have hitherto tried in vain to combine in one preparation. They relieve the bowels, purify the blood, and invigorate the constitution at once and the same time. To this fact all who try them will subscribe. The absence of minerals, and of every stupefying drug, renders them harmless, even to the most delicate female, or the feeblest child. No one can doubt their superiority at first one single trial—they are not only better, but, in fact, cheaper than any other Pills, for it takes a less number of them to produce a better effect.

Price of the Scandinavian Blood Purifier, $1 per bottle, or $5 per half dozen; Scandinavian Blood Pills, 25 cents per box, or five for $1.

☞ Read Dr Roback's Special Notices and Certificates, published in a conspicuous part of this paper from time to time. Dr Roback's Medical Almanac and Family adviser containing a great amount of interesting and valuable Medical information can be had gratis of any of his agents throughout the country.

CARLISLE, Warren Co., O., March 8, 1858

Dr C. W. Roback—Dear Sir; For the benefit of suffering humanity, permit me to say that I have found your Scandinavian Blood Purifier and Blood Pills a sure cure for Indigestion and Liver Complaint. I have suffered from these and mentioned diseases for five years and have tried a great many physicians but all to no purpose. I was advised by a friend to try your Blood Purifier and Pills and did so, I was living in Cincinnati at the time, and I went to your office and purchased one bottle of the Purifier and one box of Pills to commence with, and bless the day I found your valuable medicines, for I am enjoying good health at present, and feel confident that the cure is permanent. Let others buy and take what they please, as for me, give me the Blood Purifier and Pills for all chronic diseases which arise from impure blood or derangement of the digestive organs. I take no other medicines; and have not for the last eighteen months.

Most truly,

T. V DUBOIS.

A Dose of Medicine Hard to Work Off.—The Evansville [Ind.] Journal of Wednesday tells the following amusing story of the way the Sheriff of that county managed to arrest a robber, who had broken into the safe of the Pavillion Hotel, and then ran away to St Louis. It says:

Following him to St Louis, after a good deal of trouble, Gavitt found his lodgings, and was watching the premises at a very early hour in the morning, before the inmates were moving, when a small boy came out of the house, and, being accosted by the Ex-Sheriff, told him he was going to get a Doctor for a new lodger. The Ex Sheriff professed himself to be a physician who would be happy to attend upon the invalid. Being introduced to the sick chamber, and having examined the tongue and felt the pulse, was profoundly cogitating upon the diagnosis of the case, when the affectionate wife and sister-in-law of the patient anxiously asked what he could do for the sufferer. The Doctor replied that he should prescribe a pair of close fitting handcuffs, which he immediately took from his pocket, and applied to the wrists of his patient. The effects of the application were sudden and violent, but the symptoms yielded at once upon the appearance of a St Louis police officer, who was in attendance at the door, and the prisoner settled down into a quiet repose.

Pursuit of a Horse Thief.—The Dallas [Texas] Herald contains an account of the pursuit and death of Jo Meadows, a noted horse thief and desperado, whose adventures have given him a wide notoriety in North eastern Texas. The letter written at Kaufman, says that Messrs Dunn, Woodward and Love, of Navarro County, had returned from their pursuit of Meadows. Two of these men had devoted about three months most diligently to the apprehension of the outlaw, exhibiting in their pursuit a determination of purpose seldom equaled. These men, after satisfying themselves that Meadows was not in Texas, crossed Red River into the Indian Nation, where they became convinced that he and his gang had passed and stolen a number of horses on their way. They finally overtook the desperado, and killed him after a desperate conflict. Meadows ran some forty yards into a thicket, and fell in a ravine, where he lay, constantly firing with his six shooters at his pursuers, whenever they would attempt to approach him, as long as life lasted.

"Time Was When the Brains Were Out the Man was Dead."—That time, however, is of the past. On Saturday, the 7th inst, a man named Brown, a native of Memphis, Tenn., fruitlessly sought for work at Lagrange, Mo., and, growing despondent, undertook to end his troubles by shooting out his brains with a pistol. Obtaining the weapon, he placed the muzzle to his head and discharged the contents into his brain. Upon examination by a competent surgeon it was ascertained that the ball passed through the skull, between the eyes, and lodged in the back of the head. Part of the brain was scattered over the front of the hat.

The St Louis Democrat says the most singular feature of the affair is that Mr Brown is in a rapid way toward recovery. On Thursday he was able to sit up in bed and converse intelligently with all who called upon him. There is no doubt of the truthfulness of the statement, and the case is one of the most wonderful instances that are occasionally recorded where parties have recovered from the effect of wounds in those parts of the system which, under almost any circumstances, it has been considered certain and immediate death to touch. The affair has excited the earnest attention of the medical profession.

A Couple Sold.—A few days since we chanced to stumble into an auction sale of damaged dry-goods, where the bids were spirited, and the large crowds of males and females were vieing with each other in their offers, when a pair of bed blankets were put up, and a dozen bids were raised for them. The puzzled auctioneer, however, caught the highest bid, which was we think, one dollar, from a female, who seemed determined to have them at any price; when, ere he could say "going," a male voice from the opposite side of the room cried out:

"Dollar fifty."

"Two dollars," echoed the woman, elbowing her way through the dense mass of females who were separated from the males by a long counter, upon which the glib-tongued functionary walked to and fro with the goods. Turning to the other side, he commenced anew his stereotyped vocabulary of choice of speech, till he touched the fiddle.

"Two fifty," nodded the man.

"Thank ye, sir. Going at two fifty."

"Three," screamed the woman.

"Four," replied the man.

"Go the fifty?" said the auctioneer, turning to the woman, with a half suppressed smile on his small, sober visage.

A nod from the woman.

"Four fifty I'm offered: go me the five. Come, don't be afraid; they are worth double the money. Go the five?"

"Yes, and that's all."

"Sold to Capt Smith for five dollars," cried the knight of the hammer, almost bursting with uncontollable laughter.

"Smith!" exclaimed the woman, raising herself on tiptoe to catch a glance; "Captain Smith! what, my husband! Why, you good for nothing man, you've been bidding against your own wife! Oh, you impudence! but I won't have them in the house!"

☞ An encampment of Gipsies has been established near Buffalo, in the neighborhood of the old Indian Mission. There are twenty five wagons. The Buffalo Express thinks the gang is the same that was recently driven from the neighborhood of Cincinnati, on account of their thieving propensities. They say they are from Cornwall and Lancashire, England, and they are waiting for a large detachment—some three hundred—of the tribe to join them. They will be ordered to leave their present quarters.

☞ Senator Bright, of Indiana, has, it is said, become a member of the Roman Catholic Church. His brother Lucas is already of that persuasion. —New York Tribune.

The story originates in the rumor that Bright, the M. P for Manchester and head of the Radicals in the British Parliament, is about to join the Church of Rome, of which his brother-in-law, Lucas, is a distinguished champion.

Another Coincidence.—A correspondent of the Wheeling Intelligencer, brings to mind a fact that on the 4th of August 1492 Columbus bade adieu to the shores of the Old World to search for a continent in the western hemisphere, and remarks the coincidence that on the 4th of Aug. 1858, the continent discovered by Columbus was united with the Old World by a telegraphic cable.

Polygamy vs The Book of Mormon.—The Utah correspondent of the New York Times develops some curious facts in relation to polygamy among the Mormons. It appears that the Book of Mormon, the standard authority among the people, expressly forbids and denounces polygamy and concubinage; and that in establishing the system of many wives in his community Brigham Young has directly contravened an explicit command.

☞ The Secretary of the Interior has decided that the law of 1850, granting to the States the swamp and overflowed lands, is not applicable to Minnesota, and that the statute does not extend to States admitted into the Union subsequent to its passage.

Steam Canal-Boats.—The late experiments made on the Erie Canal, N Y, to substitute steam for horse power, has resulted very satisfactorily. The steam canal boats run with half the cost and twice the speed at least. It seems to be conceded that this experiment will work a complete revolution in propelling boats.

☞ "Pa, didn't you whip me for biting Tommy?"

"Yes, my child, for you hurt him very much."

"Well then Pa, you ought to whip ma's music teacher, too, for he bit her right right in the mouth, and I know it hurt her, because she put her arms around his neck and tried to choke him."

☞ A servant, sent to match a castor-bottle, returned with one of an entirely different pattern. After scolding some time the mistress said, "Stupid, do you not see that the two are entirely different." "No, mum," was the reply, "only one of them is different."

☞ When you go to drown yourself, always put off your clothes, they may fit your wife's second husband.

Over 12 000 have been sold and are now in active operation, and not one has proved a failure! By simply changing the needle and the adjustments the same machine will execute precisely every variety of work, coarse or fine, on cloth or leather. From $200 to $800 a year can be cleared by any one using this machine more than can be readily believed.

Singer has also brought out a new

FAMILY MACHINE,

lightly ornamented which for beauty and expedition far surpasses all other Family Machines. These machines use two threads, forming a lock stitch is the same as the goods sewed, and making a double lock stitch on both sides of the cloth, which makes a seam much stronger and better to rip than hand sewing, and does not use more than two thirds as much thread as the chain stitch machine.

J. HOSTETTER'S

Dyspepsia Indigestion, Nausea, Constipation, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, many Bilious Complaints arising from a morbid action of the Stomach or Bowels producing Cramps Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c &c.

All of these ills yield like magic to the vivifying influence upon the system, and for a guard to subsequent years, or recurrence from sickness of any kind, nothing can be more conducive to their convalescence than the use of these Bitters as per directions on the bottles.

Scarcely four years have elapsed since the first introduction of "Dr J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters" to the public, and such has been the success of this article after its proof efficacy by a discriminating public, that during the last year nearly half a million bottles were sold, with a corresponding demand in excess of the supply with all the facilities the proprietors have been able to command in its preparation.

Are you dyspeptic? Then take these Stomach Bitters.

Are you bilious? Try one bottle of these Bitters, and be relieved at once.

Are you annoyed by indigestion or constipation? Remove the cause by the free use of these Bitters.

Have you fever and ague? How many thousands in the Western South have been cured of this consuming-destroying disease by the free use of these Bitters!

All should try this great Antidote. We venture to affirm that, when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are used, cases of fever and ague complaint occur there-after. No family can afford to be without them in their own interest can afford to do without it.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

In recommending to your use Dr J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, it is but just to state that as a stimulant to the system, in imparting strength and vigor, preparatory to periods of change, which are of times attended with much pain and trouble, we know of no preparation more happily adapted to all delicate constitutions upon this cause, and for examples in stomach, cholera morbus, and all nervousness arising from over indulgence in fruits, vegetables or game, &c. It is certain and a positive antidote as a remedy, and no family should be with out it.

One wineglassful taken three times each before meals, or half the quantity if the patients are in a weak condition, and increased in proportion to their strength, will be found a great comfort. Those who will give a positive when personally cured of one of the feels, as they will be by using the Bitters one trial

☞ CAUTION. ☜

Carefulness should be our guide, but more particularly when the health is at stake. Upon these Bitters rest, from whence died qualities, becomes of late years have been a great many connections called Stomach Bitters, as I often represented to be as same in virtue as Dr Hostetter's, palmed upon the public. Be careful of these villainous counterfeits! Dr Hostetter's puts up in square glass bottles, and covered with the internal revenue stamp, and these Hostetter's Stomach Bitters," and Dr J Hostetter blown in the glass. All others are imitation.

THE OCEAN CABLE

BY ALFRED BURNET.

Join the Cable—join it true—
Sink it 'neath the waters blue,
Where Old Ocean's foaming tide,
Floweth onward far and wide.
Join the Cable,—join it true—
Making one world out of two!

Lay the Cable—let it rest
Underneath old ocean's breast,
Down beneath Atlantic's waves,
Down beneath its depths and caves,
Lay the Cable—let it rest,
O, noble sentinels—last and best!

Let it rest beneath the waves,
With buried ships, and drowned men's graves,
But secrets of the deep never tell
To make our breasts with horror swell—
Let living fingers touch the wires
And tell what in each land transpires!

Lay the Cable! It is done!
Tiding now from sire to son
Flash across the heaving main,
And sire and son unite again,
John Bull and Jonathan shake hands,
Until now by union bands.

No! I—work! Let deathless fame
Attend the hand—the heart the same
Of each, who toiled this end to gain
This lightning line across the main;
And by their country honored be,
The heroes who have chained the sea!

The Cable's laid! The work is done,
And joined the hands of sire and son,
May wards of friendship ever be
To unite us both the sounding sea,
The task is o'er, the work's complete,
Be hail in friendship nations great!

"Pop Gun" Smith.

We must, as a preface, beg Mr. Smith's pardon for using the familiar nick name of "pop gun," but, as he is better known by that cognomen than any other, and inasmuch as he don't care "hairy red," for the name, but rather glories in it, as a mark of honor conferred upon him by his enemies—and therefore we use it.

Well—the apology and preface nearly spoil what we intended to say, and we are afraid that the preface should have been the peroration. But we will proceed with what we intended to say.

On Tuesday evening last the Hall was crowded with an anxious and eager, waiting to hear an address from Mr. Smith, of Fort Wayne. While the crowd was collecting, Mr. Colerick, also of Fort Wayne, and formerly an Old-Line Whig, entertained the audience with one of those short but eloquent speeches, for which he is so justly celebrated. He made his theme the recently settled difficulties between this country and Great Britain—alluding to former differences between the two countries at the same time—and showed how our Democratic Administration had made the British Lion kneel at the feet of the American Eagle. His remarks were received with applause throughout.

Then Mr. Smith came forward. He said Colerick had fired a Paixhan Gun into the ranks of the enemy—but he would try and see what a "Pop-Gun" could do. He literally "pulled off his coat and rolled up his sleeves," and if the Black Republicans did not hear a few home truths, then we do not know the meaning of language. We regret that our limited space will not allow us to go into an extended review of his truly able speech. He spoke of the comparative benefits derived by the country from Democratic and Republican rule—has showed that all the great works of the Nation, and all the great Reforms had been accomplished under Democratic rule—that the Republicans (or by what other name they now go,) Party, had in every instance sought to build up the Aristocrat at the expense of the Poor man. He told about John B. Penn, having voted for a bill to increase the pay of the officers of the Army, who receive from $100 to $2000 per month, and never having said a word in behalf of the poor soldiers, who does the work, and runs all the risks for $8 a month. He spoke at some length of the Atlantic Telegraph Enterprise, which, thanks to an over-ruling Providence, is now successfully completed, and showed how a Democratic Administration had fostered and encouraged the gigantic enterprise, while the Republican members of Congress were so busy watching "bleeding Kansas," and sympathizing with the "poor down trodden African," that they failed to notice the matter until the booming of the cannon announced its success.

But we must "dry up." It is impossible for us to notice all the points he made in his truly argument. All we have to say, is—if you ever have the opportunity, go and hear him. You will be sure to "get your money back." He is no office holder, nor office seeker; has one of us—a plain hard working Gun Smith, and his remarks came with sledge hammer force to the minds of our fellow laborers.—Huntington Democrat.

From the Evansville (Indiana) Argus, Aug. 3.

The Cause of the Rejection of the English Proposition.—In accordance with universal expectation, the election on Monday last resulted in the rejection of the ordinance presented by Congress for the acceptance or rejection of the people of Kansas. Just what the vote may have been will not be known until the Board of Commissioners have performed their work, which will probably not be in several weeks.

The causes which have conspired to produce this result are mainly as follows:

1st. The officers elected under the Lecompton constitution were chiefly extremists, in whom the people had no confidence, and to whom they were unwilling to confide the destinies of a new State.

2d. The Legislature which was to come into power had the organization been accepted was chosen when the notorious Lane was at the zenith of his power, and a majority of the members were understood to be pledged to his election to the U. S. Senate.

To these two considerations may be attributed in the main the defeat of this measure. Other consideration of course had their influence. Many of the people were of the opinion that we ought to remain a Territory until we were better able pecuniarily to assume the expenses of a State government. Others again desire the guardianship and protection of the federal government, believing property and life insecure should the government officers and troops be withdrawn. Pro-slavery men very generally voted against it, because they preferred to remain a slave Territory rather than become a free State, while many Democrats voted against it for the sake of retaining Gov. Denver, and the other federal appointees in office, as their peace would on the adoption of the ordinance have passed into the hands of the ultra republicans.

Two Children Picked up in Lake Erie.—The Windsor Herald gives the following particulars of the finding of two children floating in Lake Erie on Thursday last:

Mr Owen was crossing from Sandusky to Kingsville in a small schooner when about eight miles from one of the islands, he fell in with a small boat containing two children, the eldest about eleven or twelve—a girl—the other some two years less. The boat was full of water during the night, and they up to their necks in water. From being so long in the water they had become almost speechless, and were with difficulty freed from their hold on the boat. From the eldest Mr Owen learned their names, and to where they belonged, and kindly took them home. From the father he learned that they had been in the water from eight A M to five P M. They had been seen in the boat in the morning, shortly after which they were missing. The father started in pursuit, but failing to find them returned to the island.

The Way the Opposition to the Democratic Party Reformed the State Offices in Indiana.

In 1851, a fusion party was formed in this State, composed of Know Nothings, Abolitionists and disaffected Democrats, in opposition to the Democratic party. They called it the "People's Party." The professed object of the fusion party was to bring about a reform in various offices of the country. They said the old political parties of the country had become corrupt and needed reforming. They intended to discard the old corrupt politicians of all parties and select more honest men for office, without regard to former political associations. This all sounded very well. By these professions the organization of Know Nothing lodges and the excitement that was raised in regard to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, and the passage of the Kansas and Nebraska bill, the fusion party succeeded in electing Secretary, Auditor and Treasurer of State and a majority of the State Legislature.

Well, how did they carry out their professions of reform, after they got into power? The history of the way they administered the offices will tell the story. H. TALBOT was the "honest man" they elected State Auditor. He permitted the Gregg Bank, at Lafayette, and the Shawnee Bank, at Covington, to withdraw the securities placed in his office, for the security of the note-holders of those Banks, and which it was his duty sacredly to keep, for the purposes for which the law required them to be deposited. By this transaction, which would result either of dishonesty or incompetency, the people who held the notes of these Banks lost many thousand dollars. In addition to this, Talbot went out of office with $10,000, belonging to the State in his hands, that he did not pay over and for which a judgment against him and his securities was recently obtained.

Dr. NOFTSINGER, the honest Treasurer elected by the fusion party, loaned about $50,000 of the people's money to speculators, and protested drafts for the amount now lie in the Treasurer's office.

A Dr COLLINS was elected Secretary of State by the Reform party. As the duties of that office are merely of that of a clerk, and none of the State's money comes into his possession, it would naturally be supposed that he went out of office with clean hands, and that he didn't steal anything. But not so. On the eve of leaving his office he deeded to himself a large quantity of the Swamp Lands of the State, for which he paid not a dollar. He has since been compelled, by a legal action, to disgorge and the Deeds have been cancelled.

This was the way the fusion party practiced reform. What was the fusion party in this State in 1854 is now the Republican party, except such as were too honest to continue with such a party, and we are happy to say there were many such, who had been inveigled into its ranks through the agency of Know Nothingism and anti Nebraskaism.

The Republican party is now asking the people to turn out of the State offices Democrats, who have faithfully and honestly discharged their duties, and put their candidates in. They should remember the way they conducted the offices when they had them before giving that party their support.—Richmond Jeffersonian.

The Rescue of the Bells.—A gentleman of this city has permitted us to make the following extract from a letter written by a friend in Harrison county, giving a brief account of the rescue of the Bells, from the Brandenburg (Ky.) jail:

I suppose you have heard of the Rescue of Mr Bell and Hinson from the Brandenburg jail, who had been maliciously and forcible taken from their home, especially the former, on suspicion of decoying and running off negroes from Kentucky. They were rescued in open day, about 4 o'clock, by two men. Horace and John Bell sons of the imprisoned man, lately from California, expressly for that purpose. Horace Bell is a perfect man at use—fearless and brave. He distinguished himself for his daring with Walker in the Nicaragua expedition, and he has several witnesses to prove he was in a hot place in the way of several bullet holes in his outer man. They were armed to the teeth with twenty shooters, an axe, crow bar, and other defensive weapons. They landed their skiff opposite the jail—rallied forth—entered the jail, occupied by the jailor and family—demanded the key—threatened the life of the jailor and turnkey if they made any resistance—seized the first door by the key—forced the next with the crowbar and axe—took their father and brother and after they left the jail the woman gave the alarm—the citizens repaired to the jail and to the river under arms, and found the party were about one third of the way from the shore. The Cornerkickers threatened to fire on them. Horace replied, "fire away," presenting his twenty shooter at them which is good for 150 yards. They fired from the shore when the skiff was midway in the river, and it was returned from the skiff, but no harm done. The Bells waved their hats before they landed on freedom's soil. The Cornerkickers are exceedingly mortified that two Hoosiers did most daringly rescue those two prisoners from the county jail of old Meade.

Beginning to Appreciate their Condition.—Within the last few months there has been a tremendous reaction against the Republicans in all the free States, for reasons that have been frequently stated in our columns. They begin to perceive the ill fate which fortune has in store for them, and express it in whispers through the columns of their leading journals. Hear the Boston correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing under date of August 7. He says:

"It does not seem quite so certain as it did a few months ago, that the Republicans are going to have a majority in the next House of Representatives. We begin to think that it does not look well there was to be a 'clean sweep' in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, and the contest looks each day more and more doubtful in Illinois and Indiana. New England cannot be expected to do any better. Of course you cannot expect to gains numerically, in Massachusetts, for the whole eleven members are now of the Republican household, but it is not to be disguised that we may lose two members, and even more. Things are looking badly in the two Boston districts."

He almost conceals the defeat of that political charlatan, Mr. Clifton Hoare Rathbourne, the worthy ally and confederate of the traitor Blair, of St. Louis.

A Canal through the Rocky Mountains.—During the late debate in the British House of Commons on the subject of the renewal of the Hudson Bay Company's privileges Lord Bury affirmed that a communication might readily be established between Lake Superior and the Pacific Ocean, by means of a ship canal connecting the head waters of the Saskatchewan and Columbia rivers. Both rivers take their rise in the Rocky Mountains, the Columbia flowing west to the Pacific, and the Saskatchewan running east of Lake Winnipeg a little to the northwest of Lake Superior. With the exception of a single rapid, which might be avoided by a canal, he boldship stated that the navigation of the Saskatchewan offers no difficulty. With that one exception, a vessel of considerable size can be taken up to the foot of the Rocky Mountains, and at this point there is a gap in the mountains, which would interpose no great obstacle to a junction of the Columbia and Saskatchewan, whose sources are but a little distance apart. Thus a direct water communication would be established with the Pacific.

Nicaragua and the United States.—A correspondent of the New York Times, at Granada writes that the rumor that the United States Government was about to blockade the ports of Nicaragua had created quite a sensation there. General Lamar, our Minister, had a protracted interview on the 22d ult., with the Nicaraguan Cabinet, and informed them that his Government was about to take decisive measures in the pending questions.

Distinguished Characters at Bedford.

The Baltimore American was favored with a letter the other day, before the visiting party had left, alluding in modest terms to the President's visit at Bedford, as well as to the persons of the British Minister and wife:

Sir William Gore Ouseley, with his lady and daughter, seem to enjoy themselves very much and will probably remain for some time after the departure of the President. He is rather a gouty and nervous old gentleman, with an aquiline disposition to keep still when he is comfortable seated. He is very much liked, and is free and easy in his intercourse with all, having apparent ly as little of the reserve of aristocracy about him as the President himself. Mrs Ouseley is an American lady, one of the Van Ness family, and was, I believe, born in Vermont. She has quite a majestic appearance, and is dressed in deep mourning.

Miss Ouseley is apparently not over eighteen years of age, of great sprightliness, the best dancer and waltzer at the Springs, and rides on horseback with a grace and reckless speed that renders it difficult for the gallants here to keep pace with her. She dresses in black, and though not decidedly handsome is by no means homely. She does not seem disposed to participate in the follies of the toilet, so common among American belles, but at summer resorts her looks rather to enjoyment and to please herself than to join in the effort to outshine others in dry goods and jewelry.

While alluding to the toilets of the ladies, I may remark that the three ladies who pay the most attention to the requirements of fashion are the President's niece, Miss Lane, the daughter of Senator Bright, and Miss Ouseley. Miss Lane is of a very neat person and figure, but is always attired with great simplicity and good taste. She seems to discard all jewelry except earrings and breastpin, and is the last person you would take to be the leading lady of the President's household. In her manners she is free and courteous to every one, without a particle of pride or hauteur.

Miss Bright has a bright, good humored countenance, and an easy, graceful manner, equally free from hauteur, and as democratic in her intercourse with the visitors of her companion, Miss Lane. Her pleasing manners render her one of the leading belles of the season. They seem to leave none here to enjoy themselves, and may be found strolling on the mountain in the morning promenading or riding out in the afternoon and evening, and joining in the waltz or quadrille at night; and do not consider it sacrilegious to be seen twice in one day in the same dress.

Minister Wright.—Baron Humboldt.—A foreign correspondent of the St Louis Republican visited Governor Wright, our Minister at Berlin, on the 4th of July, and there met Baron Von Humboldt, of whom he says:

After repairing to the parlor he remained for some time longer in conversation, and on leaving, every one advanced and pressed the noble traveler's hand, with many hearty wishes that his valuable life might long be spared to the world. The Rev Mr Clark very justly said in his remarks at dinner, that he would rather be able to say he had seen Baron Humboldt, than to say he had seen every King, Queen or Emperor in the world." A sentiment in which I am sure every American present heartily concurred. Every one present felt under additional obligations to Governor Wright for the opportunity he afforded us of enjoying for so many hours the society of his distinguished guest. And here I cannot help saying, that every American who was present, and every one who has visited Berlin, I know will join me in saying that the name of the confirmation of Governor Wright by the Senate was received with the liveliest satisfaction. As Baron Humboldt himself has said, "he is universally respected" and the President and the Senate did merely when they indignantly frowned upon the calumnies that interested parties had given publicity to, concerning his pecuniariness and cold water principles, and time will prove how deeply he was wronged by such irresponsible scribblers and meddlesome place hunters.

What Has the Opposition Ever Accomplished?—What has the opposition to the Democratic party ever accomplished in a national way? They enacted the Alien and Sedition Laws, but the Democratic party repealed them, and since then they have not been heard of. At the instance of Thomas Jefferson the Democratic party enacted the present naturalization law; the Democratic party disposed of the Federal Government from a gigantic money corporation, and established the independent Treasury system, a measure the opposition reviled, but whose success is now universally acknowledged, and no one now has the temerity to advocate its repeal. It created the tariff under which the country has prospered. In 1812 it humbled British insolence. It acquired Louisiana, Florida, Texas and Mexico, and thus has laid the foundation for one of the mightiest and freest of governments that has ever existed upon the face of the earth. A Democratic State was the first to abolish slavery, and every free State excepting one that has been admitted into the Union, has been admitted under a Democratic President. In every State in the Union where the rights of the people have been enlarged and made more secure, through their constitutions it has been done by the Democratic party. The Fugitive Slave law, may be said to belong to the opposition, as it bears the approving signature of Millard Fillmore. What other great measure can the opposition lay claim to? They had the Edmonds, &c., case of expelling some of their own members from the floor of Congress two years ago, when they were in a majority there. For shameless corruption—a thing the Democratic party was never construed to do.

What else has the opposition done?—Frankfort Democrat.

The Fraser River Gold Diggings Pronounced a Humbug.—A merchant of this city, who has been extensively engaged in shipping goods to California, went out three months ago to attend to his business affairs. On his arrival he found that all the miners of Greenwood Valley where he had a brother residing, and many other places in the neighborhood of Sacramento, were clearing out for the New El Dorado, on Fraser River. He, therefore, concluded to proceed to that himself, and ascertain what chances there might be of making a good "spec" by sending his goods to that region instead of to California. He now writes home to the effect that he has seen the elephant, horns and all, and that the greatest humbug ever got up! This information is obtained from a responsible man in this city, who says he knows us that it may be relied upon as correct.—N. Y. Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16th.—The new Granadian Minister had an interview with Secretary Cass this morning at the State department, and communicated to him the Cass-Herran Treaty as ratified by the Congress of that country. There is only one alteration therein, and not three as heretofore, and that refers to the naval depot, but the treaty is accompanied by propositions in the the nature of explanations.

Tremendous Snow Spoil in July.—The wife of George Snow of Arkansas, gave birth to three children July 25

☞ A young lady in Orange, N. J., one evening last week received a visit from a lady acquaintance and a young gent, who was introduced as a stranger. The young lady at once put on her sweetest look and were her prettiest smile, as it seems she was in the habit of doing to captivate charming young gents—and this one by the way, was a fine looking fellow. After sundry initiations, the last managed to solicit her company for the evening, and she lisped out "I have no objections." Things went on nicely, and the astonishment of the would be courted lass, the friend her supposed been to be an old acquaintance of the gender with herself decided to loan mala taggery. Of course both laughed, but the laugh was rather forced on one side.

Model Letters from Absent Spouses.

In Appleton's Cyclopedia of Wit and Humor, edited by W. E. Burton, the celebrated comedian, we find the following ingenious correspondence, illustrating the fact that married people sometimes find amusement and comfort in each other's absence:

Ladies whose lean lords are tarrying in the city during their absence in the country in the coming summer months, will experience some alleviation by reading the following:

Common Pleas Judge.—It being understood that Joseph Brackenridge, now serving by appointment of the Governor, is the only candidate for Common Pleas Judge for the district composed of Adams and Allen Counties, the central committees of those counties have concluded it is not necessary to hold a district convention. We therefore add to the Democratic ticket the names of Joseph Brackenridge, for Common Pleas Judge, and John Colerick, for District Attorney.

European News by the Atlantic Telegraph.—In another column will be found news from London up to yesterday morning, brought by the submarine telegraph! What can be more wonderful than this great and glorious achievement of science, putting us in almost immediate contact with the old world, annihilating time and space, and bringing news from the most remote regions in less time than it took a few years ago to hear from a neighboring town. The receipt of this news by the cable is a gratifying and convincing proof that this stupendous work is an absolute success, and its practical working must convince the most sceptical that there is no humbug in it.

FIRE!—On Tuesday morning last, at about 7 o'clock, the front building of Messrs Hill & Ochiltree, forwarders, situate on the basin, at the foot of Columbia Street, was discovered to be on fire. The fire had caught from a stove pipe in the second story, and in a short time the whole upper part of the building was in a blaze. Fortunately there were no goods stored there, and all those in the lower story were promptly removed and saved by the zeal and activity of our fire men, whose conduct on the occasion is deserving every praise. Mechanics Fire Co No 2, with their engine, and Alert No 1, with their hooks and ladders, were speedily on the ground, and by their energetic efforts, ably aided by the bystanders, checked the progress of the fire and prevented it communicating to the rear building, which is a frame, and was filled with goods and produce. The interior of the building was consumed, and the beautiful stone front thrown down, leaving nothing but the walls standing. Laborers were at work the next morning clearing away the ruins, and the warehouse will be immediately rebuilt; in the meantime the business is continued without interruption in the rear building. Messrs Hill & Ochiltree's loss amounts to $1,500 or $2,000. No insurance.

The firemen and citizens generally are entitled to the highest commendation for their prompt and efficient labors, by which the fire was confined to the building where it originated, and a large amount of valuable property saved.

A meeting will be held at the Court house on Monday evening next to consider the propriety of forming a Bucket Company, auxiliary to the fire department. A company of this kind, properly organized and equipped, might be of essential service in case of fire.

The Prospect.—The State Journal publishes a table showing the vote in each Legislative district at the last gubernatorial election. If the same vote should be given for members of the Legislature at the coming election, the new Legislature will stand—Senate, Democrats 27, Republicans 23; House, Democrats 59, Republicans 41. Dem. majority on joint ballot 22.

☞ In another column will be found a card from Sol. D. Bayless, announcing himself an independent candidate for the Legislature. Sol is a clever fellow and is generally believed to be not lacking in shrewdness and common sense; we must however be permitted to say he does not show much of it in this movement, and is easily fooled if he expects to be elected. Allen County is democratic, and will be represented in the next Legislature by Schuyler Wheeler and Nelson McLain, the nominees of our democratic convention.

Fort Wayne City Directory and Business Mirror.—Mr. H. T. Bennett, agent for C. S. Williams, publisher, Cincinnati, is now here soliciting subscribers and preparing matter for a Directory of our city, to be published and delivered to subscribers at as early a day as a work of this nature can be got ready. Subscription price $1 50.

The work will contain an alphabetical list of all our citizens, a directory of the streets, list of churches and hours of service, municipal and other public officers, benevolent and other societies and associations, &c, &c. The plan of the work will at once recommend it to the favorable attention of our business men. Such a publication is needed here, and will add much to the character and reputation of our city; we therefore trust it may be liberally encouraged, and such a number of subscribers be obtained as will justify the publisher in putting the work to press.

Speedy Justice.—Martin Witz, was arrested in the place on Tuesday last, charged with stealing a steer in Adams Co., and was taken to Decatur, tried, convicted, and sentenced to confinement in the Penitentiary for two years, and a fine of $30 00.

Free School.—The subscription for our free school is progressing slowly, but we have strong hopes that enough will be raised to keep open the schools until the next year's public funds are received. A few hundreds are yet necessary to ensure this desirable object, and we hope all friends of free schools, who have not already subscribed, will come forward at once, and liberally. If every parent would contribute one half what it would cost to send their children to private schools, a sufficient amount would be raised to keep the school going. They ought to do this; it would be good economy—and an act of justice as well to the school as to their children.

Indiana States Zeitung.—A new German paper under this title has been commenced in this city by Gerhard J. Nieswitz. It is a large, neatly printed paper, thoroughly democratic in its politics, and we are told, is very ably edited. We cannot read it ourself and therefore have to take the opinion of those who can. We commend it to our German friends, and advise them to get a copy and judge for themselves.

Columbia City News.—We have received the first number of this paper, published at Columbia City, Whitley Co, by T. L. Graves. It is a very fair-looking sheet, and the salutatory and editorials give evidence of superior talent on the part of the editor. It is democratic in politics, and is eminently entitled to a warm and earnest support from the democrats of Whitley Co.

Godey's Magazine. An American Novel. W. R. C. Clark & Co, Publishers, Appleton's Buildings, New York.

This is a very exciting story, showing the enormities and villainies which are sometimes practised in New York, by persons moving in the higher circles; as well as the retribution which follows such wickedness, and the eventual triumph and happiness of the persecuted and virtuous. The plot is well arranged, and the characters admirably portrayed and sustained throughout.

Are respectfully requested to meet at the COURTHOUSE, on Monday evening next, Aug. 30th, to consider the propriety of forming a Bucket Company as an auxiliary to the Engine and Hook & Ladder Companies already existing. The importance of such a company must be apparent to every reflecting mind, and the value of the services of such a company, thoroughly and effectively organized, must be fully impressed upon every one who witnessed the fire upon Tuesday morning last.

☞ We had the editor of the Black Republican of this place is not the only man of his party who can tell a tough yarn about government expenditures, and swell an actual expenditure of sixty millions into an assumed one of one hundred millions. Judge Hackleman, candidate for Congress in the 4th district, has got a little ahead of Brother Bailey, and runs up the amount to $101,000,000! Our neighbor must look out for his laurels, or he will be eclipsed by some of the smaller lights of his party, and have to descend from the proud eminence he has assumed. Let him however look out that he does not get exposed as his rival did in the paragraph below:

A HARD LICK.—The poetical Judge, in speaking of the extravagance of Mr. Buchanan's Administration, at Smelser's Mill said it was the most extravagant one that we have ever had, expending $104 000,000 per year. He refered to Mr. Pierce's Admini tration as an economical one, expending but $54,000,000 per year. Judge Holman, in reply to the poetical Judge's statement, read an article from the Rushville Republican, of 1856, with Hackleman's mark to it (!) which labored to show that Mr. Pierce was the most extravagant President we ever had. The article fairly proved that Mr. Pierce had expended $100,000,000 annually for governmental expenses. "This was something that Hackleman was not expecting, and if a bomb shell had exploded in his face he could not have looked worse."—Rushville Jacksonian.

LAWRENCEBURGH, August 22.

From the West.—Per U S Express to Boonville August 25th.—Utah mail with dates to July 31st one week later has arrived. The news is uninteresting.

The troops continues occupied in preparations for winter. All was quiet at Salt Lake City.—Sargeon Walls, of the army, arrived with the mail.

The Board of Commissioners constituted by the English bill have issued a proclamation declaring the proposition rejected by 9,572 majority. The whole vote was 13,088 votes. No fraudulent votes were received. A few precincts were rejected on account of the informalities.

A dispatch from Independence 21st, per U S Express Co. to Boonville, says that Santa Fe mail with dates to the 24 inst, had arrived. A private letter received in Santa Fe intimates that war with the Navajoe Indians is inevitable; they having determined not to surrender the murderer of Major Brooks' negro and even if all the troops to fight.

Public Sentiment in Kansas about Admission.—Gentlemen of the highest intelligence who have travelled through Kansas, and conversed freely with its inhabitants, report that all is perfectly quiet, and that the farming interests are in an extremely thriving condition. There is almost universally expressed, by all parties, a decided opposition to admission into the Union as a State. They allege that their population is too small, and that reverses in business have made them too poor to incur the expenses of a State government.—Washington Union.

Another Cable Scheme.—It is said that parties are preparing to take the preliminary steps to obtain permission from the Russian Government to construct a line of telegraph from St Petersburg to Oregon, which, being on land all the way, except the thirty miles or so of Behring's Straits, will be exempt from the expense of New York and capable of being laid through a country no colder or more unhabitable than latitude 56° degrees of the eastern shores of America. It is not proof that the present Emperor of Russia would not interpose any obstacles to the scheme, at least not to the necessary explorations being made. And, if it should be found to be feasible, there can be no doubt that the line, so constructed, and capable of the same ready repairs and supervision as any other land line, would be far preferable to a submersed line spreading over two thousand miles in length.

There is not a Lazy Liver but at some periods of their life will find Dr Dupeneux's Golden Pills, (advertised in another column) just the thing she needs. The ingredients composing these Pills is no secret, every agent selling is presented with the Formula, and they will tell you they are perfectly harmless, yet wonderfully efficacious for the relief and cure of all these delicate diseases, from which, to many of you are daily suffering. One of the first Ladies of Lafayette, ind., wr te to the agents, saying, "of so much value do I consider Dr Dupeneux's Golden Pills" in my case, of distressing and painful sickness immediately that I would cheerfully give Five Dollars a box for them if I could not get them for less.—See advertisement Headed "a Card to Ladies."

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK, August 20

There is a very general desire on the part of the public to learn the degree of success which the electricians have met with in transmitting electrical currents through the Cable, since it was submerged; but, as yet, we have nothing beyond unofficial statements from Valentia, that it is possible to receive from Trinity Bay about 60 signals per minute. If this is true it would seem to indicate the possibility of transmitting by the system of Prof. Whitehouse about three words of average length per minute, or by the system of Prof. Hughes, assuming that each electrical impulse may be made to print a complete letter, about 30 or 12 words per minute. We understand that the Company propose to give Prof. Whitehouse ample time to test his system thoroughly; after which Prof Thompson will test his invention, which is quite different from that of Prof Whitehouse; and after him Prof Hughes, of N Y, will have an opportunity to test the capabilities of his most extraordinary invention, which is, we understand, about to be introduced on one of the lines between London and Liverpool.

The following dispatch from Trinity Bay and Carbonear was received this morning by Cyrus W Field.

CARBONEAR, Aug 19.—The cable is working beautifully to day. I reached Cyens Station this evening.

We were just on the point of chartering a ship to lay the shore end. No time will be lost in sending them. All your letters have been posted to N Y. Please write me fully about the tariff and other working arrangement.

Signed, SAWARD.

NEW YORK, Aug 21.

New Telegraphic Arrangements.—The French Government has accorded to the Atlantic Telegraph Company exclusive right to land cables on the Island of Miquelon, between Newfoundland and Nova Scotia. The company proposes to run a cable from Placentia Bay to St. Pierre, thence to Sidney, which will bring the French Islands into telegraphic communication with France and save the keeping in repair of some 4 or five hundred miles of line in Newfoundland and Cape Breton, through almost uninhabited regions.

The following message was received to day:

LONDON, Aug. 23

To the Hon. B. F. Tiernan, Mayor of New York City. The Lord Mayor of London cordially reciprocates the congratulations of the Mayor of New York upon the success of so important an undertaking as the completion of the Atlantic Telegraph Cable. It is indeed one of the most glorious triumphs of the age, and reflects the highest credit upon the energy, skill and perseverance of the parties entrusted with so difficult a duty, and the Lord Mayor sincerely hopes that, by the blessing of Almighty God, it may be the means of cementing the kind feelings which now exist between the two countries.

Signed, R. W. CARDEN,
Lord Mayor of London.

NEW YORK, Aug 23.—We understand that the friends of Cyrus W Field, Esq., in his native country, Berkshire, Mass., are preparing to give him a splendid reception, to morrow, at Great Barrington.

The following dispatch was received before 12 o'clock to day:

VALENTIA, Aug 23.—CYRUS W FIELD of N.Y. I send you my warm congratulations on the success of the Atlantic Telegraph, and God be praised. Signed, S. CURNEY.

Mr. G. is the Chairman of the Atlantic Telegraph Company.

TRINITY BAY, Aug. 25.

The following news has just been received from Valentia, and from its general interest, I forward it to the press for publication.

Later.—Indian news is at hand. The dates from Bombay are to July 19th. The accounts represent that the mutiny was being rapidly quelled.

To days London papers have a long and interesting report, by Mr. Bright, the Atlantic Telegraph Companies Engineer.

The R. M. Steamship Asia, with the mails for Halifax and Boston, is to be despatched from Liverpool on Saturday next.

The above despatch was receive at Trinity Bay, at about 9 o'clock last night, and would have been here in ample time for publication in the morning papers, had the lines in Nova Scotia not closed at 9 o'clock. We understand, that after the Cable is opened for business, all the land lines will remain open night and day, and the speedy laying of a Cable from Placentia Bay N. F., to Sidney N S or Portland. We will chronicle much of the delay and uncertainty in transmit business between New York and Trinity Bay.

Arrival of the Anglo-Saxon.

QUEBEC, August 25.

The steamship Anglo Saxon, with dates from Liverpool to the 11th inst., four days later than previous advices, arrived at this port yesterday. The Canada arrived out on the 7th, and the North America and the Kangaroo on the 11th. Great excitement prevailed throughout Europe in regard to the Atlantic cable in consequence of their delay in transmitting messages. The first regular message from Trinity Bay reached Valentia on the night of Monday, the 9th inst. The speed of its transmission is said to have been greater than that obtained during the experiments made at Plymouth, and the currents apparently as strong. The shares of Atlantic Telegraph stock were quoted at about £90¾. Queen Victoria and Prince Albert had left for Prussia. The London Times in a leading article, favors the annexation of Mexico to the United States. It was resolved, by the Directors of the Great Eastern, to receive orders for her purchase or charter and also to advertise her for sale at auction—in the mean time to raise money on mortgage. All the steamship Arabia was selling on the 7th inst., in Liverpool for sum of £30. Tillett, who was doubling on the passage, was arrested. A prospectus had been issued for the establishment of the Malta, Constantinople and Alexandria Telegraph Co.

INDIA.—The Cable mail of July 4 had arrived at Alexandria. The rebels had resorted to the jungles of Bundelcund. General Layard has resigned in consequence of ill health. The Gwalior rebels, it was believed, were waiting for Bhurrepore. Maun singh was besieged at Sinagah by the Begum's army. General Whitlock had captured Firozoor in Bundi.

CHINA.—Date from Hong Kong to June 23 has been received. The Allies had advanced in gun boats to Pecsin without opposition, followed by the Americans and Russians. The allies are then enabled to command both the river and great canal. The French and English Embassadors had landed ashore. The High Mandarin, the second officer of the Empire, has been sent to negotiate. Reinforcements were continued to be despatched from Hong Kong.

FRANCE.—The Cherbourg fetes concluded on the 8th inst. At the banquet on board the line-of battleship La Bretagne the Emperor Napoleon, in proposing the health of the Queen of England, made an amicable speech. He said the fleets proved that hostile passions, aided by a few unfortunate incidents, did not succeed in affecting the friendship of the two crowns, or the desire of both nations of peace. He entertained the sincere hope that it attempts were made to stir up the old resentments and passions of another epoch they would break to pieces upon common sense. Prince Albert responded that the Queen was happy of the opportunity of endeavoring to strengthen the bonds of friendship, based on the most all prosperity and blessing of Heaven, not to be denied. He concluded with a toast to the Emperor and Empress of France. Queen Victoria left Cherbourg on the 6th inst., under a 21gle salute. On the 7th the Napoleon dock was inaugurated, and the Ville de Nantes launched. It was rumored that Napoleon will visit Victoria privately at Osborn during the autumn. The Emperor had ordered a pyramid of granite to be erected at the head of the new dock to commemorate the Queen's visit. On the 8th inst., at the inauguration of the statue of Napoleon, the Emperor made a pacific speech. He said the government would not wage war, except in defence of the national honor and the great interests of Europe.

NAPLES.—Considerable indignation was manifested at Salerno in consequence of prisoners being conveyed publicly in irons to the places of punishment, and the government prosecuting their advocates.

HOLLAND.—The reported abdication of the King of Holland is contradicted.

AFRICA.—An American ship, the Eliza G. Jones, was captured off the coast of Africa, being filled with slaves.

Arrival of the Canada.

HALIFAX, August 24.

The Royal mail steamer Canada, from Liverpool 11th, arrived late this evening.

The Lord Mayor of Dublin, had determined to give a grand banquet on the 1st of September to the principal parties connected with the Atlantic Telegraph. The Lord Lieutenant of Ireland had been invited to attend.

PARIS.—The Paris Conference are said to have taken up the question of navigation of the Danube. The monthly returns of the Bank of France show an increase of cash on hand, at Paris, of two millions of francs, and at the branch banks of one million four hundred thousand francs. It is currently reported that Marshal Randon has resigned the Governorship of Algiers, and he is to be replaced by General de Salles. The Duke de Malakoff leaves Paris for London on the 14th, to arrive at the French embassy in time for the dinner in honor of the Emperors' fete day on the 15th. The Monitor announces that the chiefs of Demar, one of the most important districts of Senegal, have prayed to be placed under the protection of French authority.

BELGIUM.—The Monitor says that a treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and Belgium was completed on the 7th of July, and was to be presented to the Chambers at the next session.

SPAIN.—Diplomatic negotiations between the representatives of Spain and Mexico, for the settlement of the long pending dispute, were expected to commence very shortly. Gen. Almonte, the Mexican Minister to France and England, had notified Spain that he was named Plenipotentiary ad hoc.

TURKEY.—The late collision in Bosnia, in Turkish Croatia, and Montenegro, had caused a sort of panic in the capital. The Musselmen and Christians were living in a state of mutual fear of each other. The Sultan, to show his confidence, had gone with a fleet on an excursion to Smyrna. A plot, having for its object the massacre of the Christians, has been discovered in Smyrna. The government had made another seizure of arms and sent the guilty parties to Constantinople. It was reported on the 25th of July a band of Montenegrins (1,000 strong) assailed Kolaschin, killing nearly 1,000 of its inhabitants who, confiding in the armistice, were unarmed. The Montenegrins burnt many houses and carried away women and children into captivity.

The negotiations with the Chinese Commissioners were proceeding at Tien Sin and an interview was to take place on the 7th of June.

Liverpool Breadstuff Market.—The weather had been favorable for crops. There had been a good yield of wheat, and the harvest was well advanced.

Wisconsin Banks

A meeting of the Busines Men of Chicago, was held at Metropolitan Hall on the evening of the 19th inst., to express their views in regard to the Wisconsin currency, which had been thrown out by the bankers of that city. Speeches were made strongly condemnatory of the course pursued by the bankers who issued the circular. The following resolutions were adopted by the meeting.

Resolved, That we believe in a sound, convertable currency and that if any of the currency, or the bills of any of the banks now in circulation in this city is inconvertable; it is the duty of our bankers and business public generally to adopt such measures as will render them readily convertible into coin or New York exchange as easily as possible.

Resolved, That we will sustain our banks in every effort made in good faith to retire inconvertible money from circulation.

Resolved, That we believe Wisconsin currency to be well secured, and if any of the banks in that State refuse to redeem we will nevertheless take their issue at par and place in the hands of some banker who will send it home for redemption.

Resolved, That we recommend the people not to sacrifice on this money, and we believe it to be perfectly well secured and ultimately good

Wisconsin Banks.—The following list embraces the Wisconsin Banks which have not yet made arrangements to redeem. They are, however, purchased by F. G. Adams, No. 44 Clark street, at 1 per cent. discount, and we should therefore advise their circulation from hand to hand in the payment of debts. Most of our merchants take them at par for goods:

Bank of Eau Claire, Eau Claire,
Chippewa Bank, Bogus,
Ludington's Bank, Ellisville,
Marathon County Bank, Eagle River,
Oakwood Bank, North Pepin,
St Croix Valley Bank, St. Croix Falls,
Wisconsin Valley Bank, Millville,
Bank of Manitoka, Gordon,
Leuthorman's Bank, Centerville,
Northern Wisconsin Bank, Aurora,
Grants County Bank, La Porte,
Shawanaw Bank, Shawanaw,
State Security Bank, Gonneken,
State Security Bank, Eau Claire,
St. Croix River Bank Brinkerhoff.

They will doubtless make arrangements to redeem in a few days.—Chicago Press & Tribune, Aug. 23d.

The Falling Off in the Receipts from Customs.—The amount of receipts into the United States Treasury form the duties on foreign imports for the fiscal year ending the 30th of June 1858, were but 41,000 000! For the year ending the 30th day of June, 1857, they amounted to 58,000,000, being a falling off in one year of 17,000,000. This immense falling off has embarrassed the Government, and has obliged it to temporarily resort to loans and the issue to Treasury notes. The Congress of 1857, unfortunately, greatly reduced the tariff of 1846, upon the ground that it was supplying more revenue than was needed for the economical expenditures of the Government, just as the great financial storm of the summer of that year, which many wise and shrewd men discovered to be impending, burst upon the country with terrible force. The effect of that storm was to seriously check the importation of foreign goods for which we could not pay, and, had the old tariff been permitted to stand, it would hardly have afforded revenue enough for the support of the Government. But the reduced tariff coming into operation at such an unfortunate time, together with the diminished importations, brought the Government revenue down almost one half. Under the circumstances, and with a financial crisis actually upon us hand, the passage of the 30 of 1857, was a great blunder for which the country is principally indebted to the Republican House of Representatives, which originated the bill, and passed it at the end of the short session, when there was but little time left to the Senate and President to examine its details.—Cin. Enq.

☞ Governor Corwin seems to bent on mischief, or at least to annoy seriously the "rugged honest" branch of his supporters. In his speech accepting the nomination, he contradicts the assertions of slavery encroached upon the North, which is constantly made in the Black Republican Journals. He says:

If the North only exercised the confidence which belonged to power and magnanimity in the bosoms of freemen, there would be no danger to the country. For, notwithstanding all that we had heard of the encroachments upon the North, the blow had never yet fallen upon slavery. After that great barrier between freedom and slavery had been broken down, freedom had reached in and taken possession of a portion of the Louisiana Purchase. So it would always be with freedom and slavery.

The Pacific Indian Difficulty.—The advices from Oregon and from Washington Territory, represent on what was called the Indian tribes as indicative of a war of either submission on their part or extermination of them on ours. Gen Harney is ordered from the Utah Campaign, if he is now well understood, to go to the Pacific side and conduct the operations of the U. S. forces in the Indian country there. It is now the general belief, from reliable representations, that there is a strong combination among the hostile tribes to carry on the war, in order to prevent the passage of our troops through their country and the construction of the military road from Fort Walla Walla to Fort Benton. These combined forces present a most favorable opposition and it is the opinion of many that it will require two years to overcome it. On the other hand, the Nez Perces and the flat heads, two of the most powerful tribes in the country, and who occupy the western slops of the Rocky Mountains, still remain friendly. The new gold diggings are on the eastern slope of the Cascade Mountains, and the hope is entertained that the troops which, under the energetic movements of Gen Clarke, and concentrating in that vicinity, in connection with what countenance and aid they may receive from the miners, may soon teach the hostile tribes the folly of their intentions. It will be seen that they will be placed between two fires—that of the friendly tribes on the east and that of the troops and miners on the west. The result seems inevitable that they must soon succomb or be exterminated.

A Change for the Better.—While witnessing the celebration of the completion of the Atlantic Telegraph in this city, the struggling together in close proximity of American, British, French, and German flags, and the expressions of gladness at the linking together of the American and European continents by the great invention of Morse, we could not but call to mind a favorite expression with some of our "American" friends a very few years ago. The substance of the sentiment which they then so much admired was the wish that an "ocean of ink instead of water rolled between the Eastern and Western continents," so that communication between the two might be forever cut off.

Nobler and kindlier feelings, we hope and believe, now prevail. The cheer-notes of the nations of the world is hailed with joy and gladness by men of all creeds and all parties. May this generous sentiment be fostered and encouraged and continue to grow in the hearts of the people of every clime.—N. A. Ledger.

☞ By the report of the Commissioners of Emigration, it appears that the arrivals of Castle Garden, New York, to the 4th of August this year, are but 48,665. To the same period last year there were 113,359 arrivals. This is a falling off of 65,294.

Missouri Congressional Delegation.—The next delegation in Congress from Missouri will be constituted wholly of national Democrats—a gain of two.

The majorities in the several districts are as follows:

1st	J R Barret	426 majority.
2d	T L Anderson	4,500 "
3d	J B Clark	4,000 "
4th	J Carter	4,000 "
5th	S H Woodson	500 "
6th	J S Phelps	5,000 "
7th	J W Noell	3,000 "

Cowner Walked.

On the 23d instant, Sheriff Kingsbury arrested a man having in his possession a gray Horse. Said horse is 8 or 10 years old, has a long switch tail; is blind in the right eye, and about 15 hands high; and has collar marks on both shoulders. A half Spanish Saddle with a black quilled seat was also recovered. The horn on the Saddle is filled with brass nails with large heads. The stirrups are of iron; girth, leather and standing martingale with brass rings. The man having the Horse is about 5 feet 3 in. high, light complexion, thin face, and gave his name here as Chas. Kelly, but went by the name of Fitzpatrick in Defiance, where he made a short stop. The man is now in jail at Toledo. Western papers will do well to notice this matter, that the owner of the Horse may be found. That it is a stolen Horse, Sheriff K. and others have no doubt.—Toledo Blade, Aug 26th.

Yellow Fever at Charleston.—We learn that the yellow fever has become an epidemic in Charleston, South Carolina, and the people are flocking in every direction. Quite a panic exists. Sixty passengers from Charleston came through Tuesday and took the Baltimore steamer. We are informed that when the last steamer left Charleston for New York, so great was the rush of the citizens to the steamer, that it was impossible to accomodate the crowd. Many were left who were anxious to leave their afflicted city.

☞ The McKean County [Penn] Bank, we learn by the Potter County Journal, gave up the ghost a few days ago. The cashier decamped with $71,000 of its funds, was arrested in New York, and committed in default of bail. The bills of the bank have been thrown out in New York. Mr Kingsbury, its president, says the Journal, will secure the holders of its issue against loss, being able and willing to do so. This is one of the banks reported on lately by the Committee of Investigation.

Indianapolis Correspondence.

INDIANAPOLIS, August 2.

EDITOR ENQUIRER—The nominations for Congress in this district were made on Thursday and Friday last. Martin M Ray, of Shelbyville, is the Democratic, and Albert G Porter, of Indianapolis, the Republican candidate. Porter was the candidate of the Indiana American, the know Nothing Maine law paper here, and succeeded. This is an important fact, and should be known to the people of the State. You will ask who is Porter I will tell you. He was raised a Democrat. In 1853 he was the nominee of the Democratic party for Reporter to the Supreme Court against Mr Gordon, the editor of the Temperance Chart, the organ of the Maine law party in this State, who was the Republican candidate. Porter was elected, and made an independent fortune out of the office conferred upon him by the Democratic party. Gordon, the Maine law man, was defeated. But in 1855 the Republicans had the majority in the Legislature, and passed the Maine law in the Democracy, from the outset, denounced the law as an act of tyranny, and proceeded, in a peaceful manner, to test its validity in the courts of justice. When the Republicans presented books of this city, for manufacturing lager beer, and selling a glass of it, and locked him up in jail, his case was brought before the Supreme Court. Judge David McDonald, of this city, (the present partner of Porter) and other lawyers, defended the law as right and valid, while Judge Morrison and other lawyers resisted it as wrong and unconstitutional. The court did not decide the case upon the first argument. A second argument was had in which Dick Thompson and this Mr Porter came forward with all their powers to aid in enforcing this Maine law, and keeping your Beebe in his dungeon for selling a glass of lager beer, while, on the other hand, our present Democratic candidate for Attorney General, Joseph E McDonald, came to the rescue on the other side, and made a most powerful argument against the law. I was a listening spectator to that argument; I remember well the closing remarks of Porter, in which he threatened the judges with political annihilation if they did not decide the law valid, forming, as he said it, to Mr Hendricks, of this city, and other prominent Republicans who were sitting around him while he spoke. It is, as I have been informed, to this threat that Judge Perkins alludes in his opinion in the case found in the 6th Indiana Reports, on page 321, when, in speaking of the constitutional restrictions, he says: "They are the main safeguards to the persons and property of the State; they will be maintained in so far as depends upon us, notwithstanding the intimation at the argument that whenever interposed no obstruction to the free course of this law was to be swept away by an overwhelming torrent. We shall be deterred by no such ill timed threats from what we believe to be the discharge of a solemn duty."

Well in 1856, the Democrats refused to nominate Mr Porter to his office of reporter, but gave the nomination to Mr Tanner. Mr Porter openly joined the Republican party, and they have now nominated him or Congress that he may enter the field and make an effort to carry out the threat of sweeping away the judges who decided the Maine law unconstitutional. Can he do it? We shall see.

He and Gordon, who were as we have stated, pitted against each other in 1853, have now running together on the same Maine law ticket—Porter for Congress, and Gordon for the Legislature. A word further about Gordon. He was in the Legislature in 1857. Andy Humphries, of Green County, a Democrat, brought in a bill to repeal the Maine law, and Gordon voted against it; but still the bill passed the House where the Democrats had the majority, but was defeated by the Republican Senate. Gordon and Todd were the representatives from this county. Gordon voted as I have stated, voted against the repeal in the House, and Todd voted for it. Now, what do we see? Why, the Republican party, the Senate, with a full knowledge of those votes, renominate Gordon and throw Todd overboard; thus as a party declaring themselves for the Maine law.

But my letter is becoming too long, I will bring it to a close. Everything is going right; the Democrats will carry the State by a large majority. You can bet on that.

Kentucky Election.—Returns have been received from ninety seven counties, in which Breckinridge has a majority over McKee of 12,458. In the counties to hear from, which are Clinton, Letcher, McLean, Powell, Whitley Rowan and Jackson, last year Garrard received 2,170 and Jones, 862. Breckinridge majority, it seems will be more than 12,000. They who have made bets upon the majority of Garrard, last fall being reported at the late election, will now consider themselves, and are ready to call in the oro.

North Carolina.—The Democratic majority in North Carolina is considerably larger than was at first supposed. In all but five counties the vote stands as follows for Governor:

John W. Ellis (Dem.)	53,511
D. K. McRae (K. N)	38,087
Democratic majority	15,424

In the Legislature the Democratic majority will be about fifty on joint ballot.

☞ The mission of the Democratic party is to administer the Government so as to compel obedience to the will of the people at home and to cause it to be respected abroad. The factions who dispute its supremacy, hinder their patriotism and statesmanship to a corrupt and unprincipled combination, to control the patronage of the Government. It is the partnership of Bifield and Black George. They are simply preachers. —Cin. Enq

For the Fort Wayne Sentinel.

MR. EDITOR:

A few weeks since some friends suggested my name in one of our city papers as a candidate for the office of Representative of this county in the next Legislature.

Since that time I have conversed with numerous persons on the subject, and it appears to be a general desire among those who I believe to be my friends, that I should run as a candidate for the office spoken of.

I have delayed my reply through the medium of the public prints, desiring that any person, who the people might prefer to myself might have a free and welcome entry for a campaign; but as no one has been named, and the time is fast approaching when the voters of this county will be called upon to make a selection of two persons to serve them as Legislators, I deem it proper upon my part to say, that I am now a candidate for the office, and will, if elected serve my constituents to the best of my ability.

I will here state, that I am not a schooled and trained politician or general office seeker. I shall endeavor to confine my efforts to home interests and issues, among which will be to labor strenously in favor of Free Schools and the passage of a law that will empower and permit us to sustain them according to the wish and will of the friends of intelligence and education. With home issues, interests and Free School as my platform, honesty and integrity to constitute my motto, you may announce Sol D. Bayless as a free and independent candidate for the office of Representative.

My best bow and compliments to the voters of Allen County, I am theirs if they so desire at the ballot-box.

SOL. D. BAYLESS.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We have never known any other medicine which has gone a share of public confidence in so short a time as this has done. It has not been more than a year since we first heard of it, and it now stands at the head of all remedies of the kind. We have used one of it ourselves, having had an occasion, as our "crowning glory" not only to get it into its original color, but gets more so—but some of our friends have, and have never known it to fail in restoring the hair to its original color. We advise such as are becoming prematurely grey, to give the "Restorative" a trial.

Of distinguished citizens in every profession, warmly recommending the two aromatics may be seen at Dr. Roback's office.

The SCANDINAVIAN VEGETABLE BLOOD PILLS are in the most general demand at proprietors which Physicians have but one mind in regard to combining in one preparation. They relieve the bowels, purify the blood, and invigorate the constitution at once and the same time. In this fact alone many them will subscribe. The absence of mineralic, and of every energizing drug, renders them safe, even to the most delicate female, or to a child of a week old. Not a case of their aggravation has ever been known. They are not only better, but in fact, cheaper than any other Pills, for it takes a less number of them to produce a best effect.

Dr. Roback's Sarsaparilla Blood Purifier, at per bottle, or $5 per half a dozen, and Indian Bear Pills, 75 cts per box, or five in $1.

CARLISLE, Warren Co., O., March 8, 1858

Dr C. W. Roback—Dear Sir; For the benefit of suffering humanity, permit me to say that I have found your Scandinavian Blood Purifier and Blood Pills a sure cure for bad action and Liver Complaint. I have sold two dozen of them as mentioned directions for use just as you have got them, and have not one case but all are in my favor. I was advised by a friend to try your Blood Purifier and Pills and did so. I was living in Cincinnati at the time, and I went to your office and purchased one bottle of the Purifier and one box of Pills to commence with, and bless the day I found your valuable medicines, for I can enjoy good health at present, and feel each one that the cure is permanent. Let others buy and take what they please, as for me, give me the Blood Purifier and Pills for all chronic diseases which arise from impure blood or derangement of the digestive organs. I write no other medicines, and leave not for the last eighteen months.

Most truly, T. Y. DUBBS.

We have had

A Dose of Medicine Hard to Work Off—The Memphis (Ind.) Journal of Wednesday tells the following amusing story of the way the Sheriff of that county managed to arrest a robber, who had run into the sale of the Pavilion Hotel, and then run away to St Louis. It says:

The case being to St Louis, after a good deal of search the Sheriff found the lodgings, and was watching the premises at a very early hour in the morning, before the inmates were moving, when a small boy came out of the house, and, being accosted by the Ex-Sheriff, told him he was going to get a Doctor for a new lodger. The Ex-Sheriff professed himself to be a physician who would be happy to attend upon the invalid. Being shewn to the sick chamber, and having examined the tongue and felt the pulse, was pleased to congratulate upon the diagnosis of the case, when the affectionate wife and sister-in-law of the patient anxiously asked what he could do for the sufferer. The Doctor replied that he should prescribe a pair of close fitting handcuffs, which he immediately took from his pocket and applied to the wrists of his patient. The effects of the application were sudden and violent, but the appearance of assistance upon the appearance of a St. Louis police officer, who was in attendance at the door, and the prisoner settled down into a quiet repose.

Pursuit of a Horse Thief—The Dallas (Texas) Herald says an account of the pursuit and death of Jo Meadows, a noted horse thief and desperado, whose adventures have given him a wide notoriety in North eastern Texas. The letter we learn at Kaufman, says that Messrs Dunn, Woodward and Love, of Navarro County, had returned from their pursuit of Meadows. Two of these men had derided about three months ago to the apprehension of the outlaw, exhibiting in their pursuit a determination of purpose seldom equaled. These men, after satisfying themselves that Meadows was not in Texas, crossed Red River into the Indian Nation, where they became convinced that he and his gang had passed and stolen a number of horses on their way. They finally overtook the desperado, and killed him after a desperate conflict. Meadows ran some forty yards into a thicket, and fell in a ravine, where he lay, constantly firing with his six shooters at his pursuers, who never they would attempt to approach him, as long as life lasted.

"Those Were When the Brains Were Out the Man was Dead"—That time, however, is of the past. On Saturday, the 7th inst., a man named Brown, a native of Memphis Tenn., fruitlessly sought for work at Lagrange, Mo., and growing despondent, undertook to end his troubles by shooting out his brains with a pistol. Obtaining the weapon, he placed the muzzle to his head and touching off the contents into his brain. Upon examination by a competent surgeon it was ascertained that the ball passed through the skull, between the eye and lodged in the back of the head. Part of the brain was scattered over the floor of the hut

The St Louis Democrat says the most singular feature of the affair is that Mr Brown is in a rapid way toward recovery. On Thursday he was able to sit up in bed and converse intelligently with all who called upon him. There is no doubt of the truthfulness of the statements, and the case is one of the most wonderful instances that are occasionally recorded where parties have recovered from the effect of wounds in those parts of the system which, under almost any circumstances, it has been considered certain and immediate death to disturb. The affair has excited the interest at section of the medical profession

A Case of Need—A few days since we chanced to stumble into an auction room of damaged dry goods, where the bids were reported, and the large crowds of ladies and females were vieing with each other in their offers, when a pair of Lead blankets were put up, and a dozen bids were raised for them. The puzzled auctioneer, however, caught the highest bid, which was we think, one dollar, from a female, who seemed determined to have them at any price, when, ere he could say "going" a male voice from the opposite side of the room cried out:

"Dollar fifty."

"Two dollars," echoed the woman, elbowing her way through the dense mass of females who were separated from the males by a long counter, upon which the gluttonous functionary walked to and fro with the goods. Turning to the other side, he commenced upon his well-worn vocabulary of choice of speech, till he touched the finale:

"Two fifty," nodded the man.

"Thank ye, Sir. Going at two fifty."

"Three," exclaimed the woman.

"Four," replied the man.

"Go the fifty F" said the auctioneer, turning to the woman, with a half suppressed smile on his small, sober visage.

A nod from the woman.

"Four fifty I'm offered: go me the five. Come, don't be afraid; they are worth double the money. Go the five?"

"Yes, and that's all!"

"Sold to Capt Smith for five dollars!" cried the knight of the hammer, almost bursting with uncontrollable laughter.

"Smith!" exclaimed the woman, raising herself on tiptoe to catch a glance; "Captain Smith! what, my husband! Why, you good for nothing man, you've been bidding against your own wife! Oh, you impudence! but I won't have them in the house!"

☞ An encampment of Gypsies has been established near Buffalo, in the neighborhood of the old Indian Mission. There are twenty five wagons. The Buffalo Express thinks the gang is the same that was recently driven from the neighborhood of Cincinnati on account of their thieving propensities. They say they are found Cornwall and Lancashire, England, and they are waiting for a large detachment—some three hundred —of the tribe to join them. They will be ordered to leave their present quarters.

☞ Senator Bright, of Indiana, has, it is said, become a member of the Roman Catholic Church. His brother Jesse is already of that persuasion.—New York Tribune.

The many neighbors in the county that Bright, the Hon. Preston Maguire, and head of the Locofocos in the Indiana Legislature, is about to join the Church of Rome, of which his brother-in-law, Lucas, is a distinguished champion.

A Case Coincidence—A correspondent of the Wheeling Intelligencer, brings to mind a fact that, in the 4th of August 1492, Columbus bade adieu to the shores of the Old World to search for a continent in the western hemisphere, and reminds the coincidence that on the 4th of Aug. 1858, the continent discovered by Columbus was united with the Old World by a telegraphic cable.

Polygamy vs. The Book of Mormon—The Utah correspondent of the New York Times declares in some certain facts in relation to polygamy among the Mormons. It appears that the Book of Mormon, the standard authority among the people, expressly forbids and denounces polygamy and declares that in case of the marriage of a man to more wives he is committing whoredom and his children are illegitimate. Brigham has evidently overcome such an objection.

The Supreme Court of the United States has decided that the Act of 1850, granting to the States the swamp and overflowed lands, is not applicable to Minnesota, and that the statute does not extend to Stat s admitted into the Union subsequent to its passage.

Steam Canal-Boats—The late experiments made on the Erie Canal, N. Y., to substitute steam for horse power, has resulted very satisfactorily. The steam canal boats run with half the cost and twice the speed at least. It seems to be established that this experiment will work a complete revolution in propelling boats.

☞ A country paper says whipping for lying Tom [illegible]

"Mary Ann, did you hurt him very much?"

"Why, Ma, you ought to see my pocket-handkerchief, for he let her right right in the mouth, and when it hurt her, because she put it to her eyes and he took and tried to choke him."

☞ A servant sent to match a cast-off silk dress in Lyons found an entirely different article. After searching some time the milliner assured him that he could not see that the two were unlike. "No, mum," was the reply, "but you can't deceive a Parisian."

☞ Don't go to dinner by yourself, always provide your self with a lady, they may fit your wife's second best bonnet.

☞ Why is the letter G like the sun? Because it is the centre of light.
